TWO COVERED BRIDGES WILL BE REPLACED

Two of the county's covered wooden bridges, Stone Jug No. 1 and Stone Jug No. 2, will be replaced by concrete structures this summer.

The Adams County commissioners, meeting Wednesday afternoon at the site of the bridges, located within a few hundred feet of each other along the Stone Jug Road, voted to replace the structures following consultation with their engineer, J. B. Long.

Long was instructed to draw plans and specifications for replacement of the wooden structures with pre-tensioned, pre-stressed concrete members to be placed atop the present abutments of the bridge.

To Ask Bids
The commissioners said the advertisement for bids will be placed in about five weeks, and that the new bridges should be built "by August." The road should be usable for school buses of the Upper Adams jointure when schools open in the fall. Last autumn the school district withdrew its buses from the road because of the danger of the heavy vehicles, loaded with youngsters, plunging through the bottoms of the bridges. At present the bridges are rated as having only a two-ton carrying capacity.

The bridges will remain "until the contractor putting up the concrete structures remove them," Karl J. Smith, president of the board of commissioners, said. They will be open to light traffic through the summer.

Removal of the bridges will lower the number of covered wooden bridges still under county control to eight.

Today the commissioners, Smith, J. Blaine Bushey and G. Ed Taubman, were making their monthly inspection of the county home.

PITZER, AIDES WILL LOSE JOBS

H. Earl Pitzer, of Aspers, was notified Wednesday that he will be dropped from his $8,304-a-year job as state director of highway safety, effective May 1.

At the same time two of his top aides, Odell K. Murray, of Erie, assistant director of the bureau at $6,510, and Walter J. McBride, of Carlisle, supervisor of safety at $5,568, also were slated for removal from the payroll. McBride's dismissal is effective April 18; Murray's May 1.

Before the Leader Democratic administration took office, Pitzer, a former member of the House of Representatives from Adams County, lifted the driver's license of Herbert B. Cohen, York, who was slated to become attorney general, on a charge of speeding. The permit was later restored, reportedly at the direction of former Gov. John S. Fine.

Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Waltersdorf, Washington, Pa., spent Wednesday with friends in Gettysburg.

A Little Girl's Prayer

By Leighton C. Taylor

Doctor Ralph W. Sockman, noted clergyman of The National Radio Pulpit, in one of his recent sermons, recited the following prayer offered by a little girl while her mother was tucking her in for the night:

"Dear God, please make all of the bad people good, and all of the good people nice and kind."

Doctor Sockman's comment was that many of us work so hard at being good that we have no time to be "nice and kind," no time to be forgiving and charitable in our thoughts and actions.

The director of the popular TV "Juvenile Jury" panel concludes his program with the observation that out of the mouths of babes often come gems of wisdom; and, in your correspondent's opinion, the little girl of our story already cognizant, from her short childhood experience, of the prevailing selfishness in this troubled world, was seeking in her prayer one of the most valuable gems in the philosophy of Christianity.

TELLS NURSES OF WORKSHOP ON CANCER NURSING

Mrs. Josephine Delp, Bendersville, addressed a group of nurses at a meeting in the board room of the Annie M. Warner Hospital Wednesday night on "The Role of the Nurse in Caring for Cancer Patients." She is assistant director of nurses here.

As a part of this area's campaign against cancer, Mrs. Delp attended the recent "Cancer Nursing Workshop Conference" at the School of Nursing, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia. Her tuition and expenses were paid by the Adams County unit of the American Cancer Society.

The local unit of ACS is currently conducting an educational and fund-raising drive in the county. In an interview with a Times reporter, Mrs. Delp expressed enthusiasm for the conference she attended, saying, "It covered every phase of cancer, including the role of the nurse, nursing care, prevention, detection, diagnosis, treatment, rehabilitation, teaching and follow-up."

"Periodic physical examinations by the family physician sometimes make it possible to detect cancer even before one of the seven danger signals appears."

"In the final analysis, however," she said, "cancer can be diagnosed by biopsy only. This involves the examination of cells under a microscope. The quickest diagnosis of cancer to date is the Papanicolaou smear, which can be made at the Warner Hospital."

Mrs. Delp visited the Lackawanna Research Laboratory, Lackawanna, Pennsylvania, where research scientists are working constantly on the fight against cancer.

Lad Reported In Serious Condition

Attendants at York Hospital listed as serious the condition of David Lange, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Lange, 2043 W. Market St., York, who received severe internal injuries Saturday afternoon in a 10-foot fall from the second floor of a barn while playing "cowboys and Indians."

Emergency surgery necessitated the removal of the body's badly injured spleen.

The accident is reported to have occurred on the farm of Llewellyn Hoffman, York R. 10. The Lange boy and Hoffman's eight-year-old son, Llewellyn Jr., were playing in the barn when the former pushed against a door which suddenly opened and caused him to plunge to the ground. The two boys are pupils in the "halfway" Elementary School, York.

Mrs. Lange is Mrs. Rebecca Zeigler of Gettysburg.

Says Bus Strike Not In Force Here

Mrs. Evelyn Hoffman, co-proprietor of the Greyhound Post House, today said that the widespread strike of Atlantic Greyhound bus drivers does not affect Gettysburg or this section of Pennsylvania. She said Greyhound buses are operating through here the same as usual.

Nine Greyhound, three Trailways and one Blue Ridge bus operate through Gettysburg daily, Mrs. Hoffman said.

"REC" CLASSES VERY POPULAR BOARD IS TOLD

One hundred and ten persons took part in the annual Adult Evening School held by the Gettysburg Recreation Association this winter. Rogers Herr reported Wednesday evening to the Recreation Board at its meeting in the fire engine house.

Members of two of the classes, woodworking and typing, found the instruction so much to their liking that when the Recreation Association courses ended, they made arrangements on their own with their teachers to continue the classes at the expense of the persons attending.

Herr said he was "amazed at the response. A tremendous interest was shown by those attending the courses." The classes ended with 16 persons in painting, 10 in woodwork, nine in home economics, 34 in typing and 31 in shorthand. Fifteen persons were unable to complete the courses after beginning them, Herr said.

80 Played Basketball
He also reported success with the basketball league program carried on by the Recreation Association at the high school here during the winter. Eight teams took part, with approximately 80 players.

"The competition was keen, with the teams only about a game apart at most times. Of particular interest was the relatively large number of spectators who turned out to watch the games. We had 50 or 60 spectators there for most games. Age of the players ranged from 18 to about 28." New Oxford's entry won the league title.

Members of the Recreation Board observed, "permitting teams from outside Gettysburg to compete helped greatly in the interest shown in the basketball league. Had we confined it strictly to Gettysburg, we would have had only about four teams and a lot less interest."

Much of the discussion was devoted to the summer program and renovation work at Recreation Field. A new mower for attachment to the tractor has been purchased.

Hazel Caused Damage
Rec. Board Member Donald Peters reported that work has been started on repair of the backstop at the field, and on the archery screen, both of which, he said (Continued On Page 4)

4 Ways To Fight Cancer, 3 By X-rays, 1 Hormone, Reported By 2 Scientists

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter
MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Four new steps in fighting cancer—three by X-rays and one by a hormone—were reported today by University of Minnesota scientists.

One X-ray step has produced some unexpectedly good results. It employs the cobalt "bomb," a chunk of radioactive cobalt only as big as four silver quarters piled one atop another. But it shoots out X-rays equal to those from a three million-volt X-ray machine.

Two patients with widespread cancers hit by the cobalt beam are alive and apparently well a year later, said Dr. K. W. Stenstrom and Dr. Halvor Vermund, radiologists.

One young man had inoperable cancer which had started in part of the large intestine, then spread to the liver, lung and neck. Cobalt's X-ray beam on three separate occasions was shot into his abdomen, chest, then neck. He is as "healthy as anyone," a year later so far, back at work, with his cancers apparently melted. A second step is a still-secret chemical which may make cancers more vulnerable to X-rays than nearby healthy tissue. Cancer cells have a bigger appetite for this chemical, and thereby may become an easier pushover for X-rays. The drug has been given to only six patients so far, and it's too early to assess results, Stenstrom and Vermund told science writers on an American Cancer Society tour of research centers.

Third is evidence, from animal tests, that X-rays hitting normal tissues may make them more resistant to cancer growth, or to becoming seed beds for cancer cells wandering from the original cancer site.

Fourth is the hormone treatment of massive doses of cortisone, an adrenal gland hormone, for some women with advanced breast cancer. This puts some of the woman's own glands on an enforced vacation, and that can be very good, said Dr. B. J. Kennedy.

Old Glory Flies Above Red Stars

OSAKA, Japan (AP)—The biggest hotel in this industrial capital of Japan found an extra flag pole and ran up the Stars and Stripes today after American guests objected to its flying the flag of Communist China.

The Japanese compromise for this impasse in the cold war put Old Glory in the central position of honor, flanked on the right by Red China's five-starred red banner and on the left by the rising sun of Japan. The hotel had only two flagpoles so bell boys were sent out for a third.

The New Osaka Hotel had run up the Japanese flag this morning as usual, and hoisted the flag of Communist China to honor a Red trade mission.

An American movie troupe which has rented 29 of the hotel's 230 rooms for more than a month protested.

EX-WIFE ADMITS SMUGGLING GUN TO PRISONER

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A much-married blonde and her new husband broke down during all night questioning and confessed they bought and smuggled to convict George Heroux the tiny pistol he used Monday to kill a prison official and wound two guards.

State Atty. T. E. Duncan said the woman is Ruth Staffa, 23, and that she took the gun to her bank robber former husband in her girlie Feb. 20.

Duncan said the man is Raymond Staffa, a Miami race track exercise man whose love for the woman led him to buy the pistol. He said he wanted to do everything possible to win and keep her love. The two were brought here after being arrested and flown yesterday from Miami where they had been living.

Killed In Break
J. D. Godwin, assistant prison superintendent, was killed in the attempted break. The two guards were not critically injured.

Heroux pulled the gun on a guard taking him to a toilet Monday and demanded to be taken to the superintendent. He opened fire in a corridor adjacent to the superintendent's office when other guards began closing in to overpower him.

Duncan said he charged Heroux with murder. The prisoner was serving a 25-year sentence for kidnapping two policemen in a Miami suburb in 1952.

Heroux is also under a 25-year sentence for a Kansas bank robbery.

Charge Filed
Duncan said he had charged the Staffas with conveying a weapon into state prison at Ralston near here for the purpose of aiding in an escape.

Duncan said the woman's marital life has been considerably mixed up.

"She says she married Heroux Feb. 18, 1952, and got a divorce in Miami; but also says she never got a divorce from the first man she married and by whom she has a 6-year old child. She didn't name this first man."

Duncan says a prison matron searched the woman but apparently not very well. A custom at Ralston is to permit relatives and friends to mingle freely with prisoners in an enclosed yard on Sunday afternoons.

Final plans were laid for the forthcoming bake, food and peanut sale on April 23 in the parish house and for the community bridge party to be held on May 13.

After the business session, a buffet dessert was served by the hostess, Mrs. Lowe, aided by Mrs. Noble. The ladies decided to hold their May meeting at the home of Mrs. Albright on Hanover St.

For the last two days, Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. has been working at his cherrywood desk, writing the report on the success or failure of the Salk polio vaccine—only four days from completion.

His wife, Dorothy, and his household maid are the buffers between Dr. Francis and an inquiring world. He will talk only to associates on the telephone. His front door is closed to inquiring voices. Dr. Francis says he will issue the vaccine report April 12 and no sooner—and he means it.

Finds Lost Father In Old Soldiers Home

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Camillo Macesio, 64, will leave an old soldiers home soon and come back to live with a daughter he hadn't seen in 23 years.

Macesio dropped from sight in 1932 after a family quarrel. His daughter, now Mrs. Rose Wilkins of nearby South Mchamville, N. J., grew up in orphanages after her mother and father parted.

Recently, however, Mrs. Wilkins decided to track down her father even though she didn't know his name. After much detective work, he was located at the Old Soldiers' home in Erie, Pa.

She phoned him Monday and last night they met and embraced at the home of a relative here. Mrs. Wilkins said her father will come to live with her this summer.

NEWSMEN SPLIT OVER CARNEY'S EXACT WORDS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newsmen who attended a now-controversial briefing with Adm. Robert B. Carney disagreed last night as to whether the chief of naval operations had made a firm prediction of Communist attack in the Formosa Strait.

Carney told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee Tuesday he had not.

He has been named as the source of stories which appeared after a March 24 background session with a group of reporters. Some of these stories, without quoting Carney, said the Chinese Communists were expected to attack in the Quemoy-Matsu Islands area in mid-April.

Difference In Reports
After Carney told the Senate group he had not made such a prediction, Robert L. Riggs wrote in a dispatch to the Louisville Courier-Journal that the admiral had so predicted "at least four times."

Riggs said he took extensive notes at the briefing, in longhand and shorthand, and he quoted Carney as saying at one point the Reds "probably will initiate an attack on Matsu in mid-April."

On the other hand, Paul R. Leach, head of the Washington bureau of the Chicago Daily News, said Carney's denial was technically correct. Leach wrote: "My quotes do not have Carney saying the Reds would make an attack on the Matsus by mid-April, but that they could be 'able' to initiate an attack, perhaps that early."

STORMS POUND SOUTHEASTERN U.S.; MAN KILLED
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Early spring storms pounded areas in the Southeast states today after yesterday's damaging wind and rainstorms in Texas and other southern areas.

Northern Alabama was pelted by rain and hail with tornado winds in some areas. A tornado struck Altoona, a town of about 1,000 people north of Birmingham, causing an estimated $50,000 damage. Torrid rains fell at Birmingham and other northern Alabama towns. No serious injuries were reported.

Tornadoes and severe windstorms which hit across a 5,000-square mile area of north central Texas yesterday killed one man and injured 27 persons. Crop and property damage was estimated in the millions of dollars.

Losses to cattle and sheep in the violent blizzards which virtually paralyzed Wyoming and Montana earlier this week were estimated at $1,200,000 by William L. Chapman, Wyoming agriculture commissioner.

Chapman said perhaps 20,000 sheep and 8,100 cattle died.

22 ALGERIAN REBELS KILLED

ALGIER, Algeria (AP)—Twenty-two independence-seeking rebels were killed and 44 taken prisoner in three clashes with Foreign Legion troops in southeastern Algeria in the past two days, French authorities reported today.

The biggest clash took place last night northeast of Tkout, in the Batna area of the Aures Mountains.

Summoned to surrender, a group of rebels opened fire on a Foreign Legion detachment. Ten outlaws were killed when the legionnaires returned the fire. Forty-two others were captured.

Twelve Others Killed
Twelve rebels were killed in two earlier clashes. The announcement did not say where these occurred. No French losses were reported.

French authorities also reported that a group of insurgents raided a hamlet in the Aures area April 4 and kidnapped two Frenchmen. One of them, 60, was found dead on the roadside the next day.

Burglars Get $200 From Post Office

WESTVILLE, N.J. (AP)—Burglars took about $200 from the Westville Post Office early today but missed another $12,000 in money and stamps located in a small safe within a larger vault that they had broken.

Postmaster Walter Darlington, who estimated the loss, said it was possible the bandits had been frightened off by Albert McCarthy, Post Office maintenance man who discovered the break about 4 a.m.

Darlington said the men forced a rear door to the one-story building in the Gloucester County community and then forced open a six-foot by 12-foot double door safe. From this they took about $100. Another $100 was taken from drawers at postal clerks' booths.

The smaller safe was untouched. Police said the destruction of the large safe appeared to be the work of skilled safecrackers.

The area of Red China is roughly 4,200,000 square miles.

Pleads Insanity In Girl's Murder

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A 42-year-old Norristown steelworker has pleaded temporary insanity on charges of slaying his girl friend, but prosecution attorneys told a jury yesterday it was pre-meditated murder.

Peter Pawlishyn is accused of shooting Mrs. Dorothy Cassel, 46-year-old waitress, last November. Police said the fatal shooting followed an argument over Pawlishyn's getting a divorce.

Pawlishyn is on trial in Montgomery County Court before a jury of six men and six women.

Today's Talk

HEROIC READINESS

Wendell Phillips once said it was not enough to be ready to respond when duty called, that a man should stay around where he can hear the call. I like those two words: "heroic readiness." I came across them in an essay by Robert Louis Stevenson.

It seems to me that these words apply so aptly to the volunteer, when his country is in peril. Up to the present time, at least, it has been the foot-soldier who has stood the brunt of the battle. Heroic readiness has been his middle, and most characteristic name.

But this readiness may be something we can take to ourselves and demonstrate in our everyday lives. Ever notice that in every community there are certain ones who always spring to notice, ready to perform good things the moment there is a call for help or leaders? There is more heroic readiness in every community than anyone in that community ever suspects. Just let an emergency arise and you'll learn the names of your most valuable citizens!

Whenever a great sorrow or a grave disappointment occurs, unexpectedly, it's this heroic readiness, faced and cultivated throughout the years, that comes to one's rescue, and performs like an uninvited Angel from Heaven!

Centuries long ago brought life's problems to the individual as they are brought today. People mastered them courageously then and they are mastered in the same way today. Life couldn't go on very well were it not for the fact that there are brave and resourceful people all over this globe! And the useful ones far outnumber the idlers and no-accounts.

It is well that so many of us are hero worshipers and so can keep before us, at all times, the examples of those born to lead and inspire!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Penalty We Pay"

Just Folks

SPECTATOR ONLY
For basketball too short was I.
For football much too light and frail.

At golf, no matter how I'd try,
It seemed to be my lot to fail.
At baseball on the bench I'd sit;
A curve I never learned to hit.

At boxing I'd no grace or skill;
I found no fun in trading blows.
I didn't like, and never will,
To punch a rival on the nose.
At wrestling fame I've never known;
No one has heard me grunt and groan.

A hockey game I've never played;
I wasn't born to be that rough.
For shots on goals that must be made,
On skates I wasn't fast enough.
Strange life is mine upon the whole,
I've never vaulted with a pole.

I've hurled no javelins or spears,
With marksmen I have never shot.
And some may say throughout the years,
That I have surely missed a lot.
But still so many joys I've had,
I find no reason to be sad.

Governor, Advisers Meet Monday To Discuss Means Of Raising $500 Millions

HARRISBURG (AP)—The specific taxes the administration will tag apparently was an open question today at the end of two days of conferences by Gov. George M. Leader with a group of top advisers.

The governor and his advisers will tackle anew next Monday the problem of how to raise 400 to 500 millions in taxes to balance the commonwealth's 1 billion dollar plus budget for the 1955-57 biennium starting June 1.

The governor said the group made "satisfactory progress" at conferences Tuesday and yesterday and that he expected to have the administration tax package wrapped up by time the General Assembly reconvenes on April 18. Speculation at the capital centered around the possibility that some form of a state income tax, with some exemptions and other variations, might get the administration nod.

Oppose Income Tax
However, a gross receipts tax was reported also to have entered into the discussions since top labor leaders renewed their opposition to an income tax.

Meantime, Miles Horst, Republican state chairman, took issue with the Democratic claim that Republicans are responsible for the state's financial dilemma.

"If the state government costs 400 to 500 million dollars more under the Democrats than it did under the Republicans, the responsibility will rest right with the Democrats," Horst said. "They can't shift the blame to the Republicans, past or present."

Horst said two major reasons for higher government costs were increased salaries for school teachers and the cost of operating the General State Authority, the commonwealth's borrow-to-build agency.

Sought Tax To Pay Bills
"You can search the records in vain for any evidence that any Democrat ever voted against either higher salaries for school teachers or against the General State Authority," Horst said, adding:

"Republicans voted for appropriations for the increased cost but they also have voted for taxes to provide the money. Can the Democrats say the same? Of course, they can't."

Leader has refused to discuss any specific tax programs under consideration at the tax conferences. However, he has not denied the possibility of an income tax. Regarded as the chief clue to a shift in stand by Democrats—despite campaign promises and Leader's disavowal of the state sales tax and a wage tax—is a statement by Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman.

New Line Of Thinking
Barr, at the conclusion of Tuesday's tax conference, said that a check of all governmental operations has resulted "in a complete realignment of thinking on the tax situation in Pennsylvania."

"Political considerations of last year in view of budget and administrative revelations since Jan. 18 (Leader's inauguration) are scarcely applicable now," the state chairman said.

More time has been requested by some members of the conferring group to finish their study of the tax ideas that were advanced at the two-day session, Leader said.

"I would rather move slowly and be right than act hastily and make mistakes," he added.
"This is a serious problem. As such it deserves all of the time and thought we can concentrate in it to protect the interests of the people of this commonwealth."

Work has also begun on a drainage ditch to halt surface water washing across a portion of Recreation Field. Sand boxes are to be constructed for placement at the field.

Last month the Recreation Board gave a right of way for a Municipal Authority sewer across a corner of the field, with the work of placing the pipe to be completed by April 1. Following discussion Wednesday night the board agreed to notify the authority that since the work has not been completed, the authority should ask further action from the Recreation Board if it seeks at a later date to place the pipe. The action was designed to prevent the Recreation Field from being dug up during a period when it would be in use.

Advisory Board Totters
W. E. "Johnny" Knox, a member of the advisory board of the Recreation Association, told the board: "The advisory group seeks instructions. It has been able to get out only a few members at meetings and it is thinking about disbanding unless you want it to continue."

Board Chairman Guile W. Lelever noted, "The advisory board has proven extremely useful and has provided numerous excellent suggestions in the past and we need its advice." On motion of George March, the board passed a motion urging the advisory group to continue its activities.

Knox reported that the advisory group, at its last meeting, again urged that the Recreation Board seek to have borough council set up recreation under a tax-supported program rather than through the present method of securing financial support from community chest, plus a donation from council.

Urged School Purchase
He added that the advisory board also recommended that the Recreation board seek some method of purchasing the High St. school and using it as a recreation center.

A general discussion in which the board members indicated that they also felt the High St. school would provide "a wonderful spot for a recreation and community center" failed however to determine any method by which such a purchase could be financed.

Saturday night teen age dances will be continued at the high school, at least until the end of school, the board decided. Fred P. Haehnel, in charge of the dances, was instructed to hold one this Saturday, "because there are no church services Saturday night."

Summer Staff
During the summer the Recreation board may continue Saturday night teen age dances at the Recreation field, if sufficient interest is shown, according to discussion Wednesday night. No final action was taken on the matter however.

Howard Shoemaker, Luther Sachs Jr. and Jack Bream will be available for recreation duty this summer, Mr. Lelever told the group. Shoemaker and Sachs will each receive $50 a week, while Bream, a Sophomore at Gettysburg College, will receive $37.50. Bream will be given an "emergency certificate" permitting him to serve as an instructor although he has not completed his college studies. The board also is seeking a young woman with a teaching certificate in physical education for playground duty this summer.

AFL-CIO Merger To Be Complete In Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL and CIO expect to accomplish their merger before the end of the year.

AFL President George Meany and CIO President Walter Reuther said yesterday that "unity" committees have gone over a draft of a constitution for the proposed 15-million-member organization. They said they had agreed on practically the entire document but wanted to consider some items further.

Another meeting will be held May 2.

EUROPEANS NOW CONSUME MORE

PARIS (AP)—The Organization for European Economic Cooperation proudly reported today that per capita consumption in its 17 member countries last year was 12 per cent higher than before World War II.

"The task which Western Europe now faces is to build a better economy than that existing before the war," the OEEC declared in its sixth annual review. It was the first generally optimistic report on West European economic conditions the organization has published.

OEEC was set up in 1948 to handle the European end of the Marshall Plan. It has continued since the end of that U.S. aid as a kind of coordinating economic body for the 17 West European participants.

Exceeded Hopes
Announcing that its members "have completed—even exceeded—the economic recovery which, when the Marshall Plan began, was no more than a hope," the organization called for further economic expansion and progress toward free convertibility of national currencies.

FBI SEARCHES FOR 4 BANK BANDITS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP)—Police and the FBI searched today for four robbers who engineered history's biggest cash bank holdup with precision planning. It netted them $305,243.

The quartet kidnapped a clerk near his home to get into the Woodside Queens, branch of the Chase Manhattan Bank yesterday. They locked 11 persons in a vault and escaped with bundles of bills of mostly 5, 10, and 20-dollar denominations. No shots were fired and no one was hurt.

The familiarity the bandits had with the names and working habits of the employees led Asst. Dist. Atty. Thomas P. Cullen to say last night that the holdup may have been due in part to "information from the inside."

Three of the men, one with a sawed-off shotgun, did the actual looting while a fourth man awaited in a getaway car.

The car, a 1953 Cadillac, later was found abandoned a short distance from the bank. The bandits apparently transferred to another car and vanished despite a hastily set up FBI and police dragnet.

Chamberlain Polls Record Vote To Head All-State 5; Squad Has Scoring Punch

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

HARRISBURG (P)—All-state veterans dominate the 18th annual Associated Press Pennsylvania scholastic basketball team with sky-high Wilt Chamberlain the all but unanimous choice in the voting of coaches, sports writers and broadcasters.

Listed with the 7-foot Overbrook standout are Jim McCoy of Farrell, with Chamberlain a 1954 first team All-State selection; Horace Walker of Chester, Gene Danko of McKeesport, and Jim Oravec of Palmerton.

Danko and Walker, who is the only junior on this year's squad, both made the fifth all state team last year.

With the exception of Chamberlain, the 1955 squad is one of the shortest in years, averaging less than 6-2. Including Wilt, the average is pulled up to 6-3, an inch and a half shorter than last year's All-State squad.

Point Average 54.8
But in point making and experience, this year's squad is second to none. Not a man on the squad made less than 400 points during the season and the team average is 54.8 points per man for the campaign.

Towering over the rest of the squad—both in height and in point making—is Chamberlain.

In the voting by some 125 Pennsylvania coaches, sportswriters and sportscasters, Chamberlain piled up an unprecedented 620 points.

Wilt was named on more than two thirds of the ballots and was first choice on many of them.

But the rest of the starting five were all favorites with balloters across the state. Four of the starting five—Chamberlain, Walker, McCoy and Danko—were lopsided favorites for the first team, while Jim Oravec made the squad by a two-point margin over Stewart Heller, another star of McKeesport's state champions.

New Scoring Mark
Chamberlain became the top schoolboy scorer in Class A basketball history in Pennsylvania. He scored 846 points in his last season at Overbrook and led his team to its second consecutive Philadelphia City title.

Overbrook's only loss this year was to the McCoy-led Farrell five, 56-58, and the team has suffered only three setbacks in the three years Wilt has been playing.

Walker was the 6-3 anchor man of Chester's eastern regional champions in PIAA competition. "Only a junior 'Happy Horace' scored 496 points in 28 games but his rebound ability is the thing that has pulled us through many, many games," says Chester Coach Bob Forwood.

McCoy Real Vet
McCoy, 6-4, makes up in speed and all-around team play what he lacks in size. Last year he led his Farrell High team to the state championship and this year sparked the Steelers to a Dist. 7 title playoff with McKeesport.

He has been a regular on the Farrell club for three years, following in the footsteps of his brother, Julius McCoy, who was on the All-State team selection in 1951 and 1952.

Danko, 6-1 senior, ranks 20th scholastically in a class of 700 at McKeesport High. He scored 439 points this season—a new school record—and was co-captain and playmaker for the state champs.

Oravec, scoring 477 points in 24 victories and one defeat, the 6-2 senior paced his Palmerton club to the best season it has had in years. Its only loss was to Allentown in the playoff for the Dist. 11 PIAA crown. He's the only southpaw of the starting five.

Tennis Players Helped By Clock
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (P)—Stuart Richter, city recreation head, thinks he has solved the problem of too many tennis players and too few courts.

It's a clock rigged to shut off the lights at the courts at the end of an hour. Players adjust the clock to the number of minutes they wish to play, up to an hour. When time is up and the lights go off, the players must yield the court to the next players.

No coins are needed—it's all free, all free.

HOW TO LOSE RACE
MIAMI, Fla. (P)—Jockey Kenny Church has found a new way to lose a horse race.

Riding Doctor Heitz recently at Hialeah Park, Church felt the saddle slip during the race. He said he tried to drop out but his horse was poked and he had to stay in. Doctor Heitz came in second but he had lost the lead pad which made up part of his assigned weight. Stewards then disqualified him for losing part of his impost.

BREAM SELECTS TWO ALL-STAR COURT SQUADS

Philadelphia district players dominate a 12-man all-star squad picked this week by Henry T. Bream, who has retired after 28 years as basketball coach at Gettysburg College. In selecting his all-star unit-picked from the hundreds of players he coached over the 28-year span—Bream names a six-man pre-war unit and another six-man post-war group.

Bream, who led the Bullets to a total of 305 wins and 194 losses, will devote full time now to his duties as athletic director and baseball coach. His basketball duties will be taken by Bob Davies, ex-Rochester Royal star.

The pre-war all-star team consists of Earl McMillen, who played from 1927 until 1930; Hugh Hoke, 1927-30; George MacMillen, 1932-35; John Cico, 1933-36; Tom Weems, 1936-39, and Harry O'Neill, 1936-39. The post-war unit includes Bucky Harris, 1947-50; Harry Pure, 1947-50; Hank Belber, 1948-51; George Hare, 1949-52; Joe Lang, 1951-54; and Bill Snyder, 1952-55.

The tallest men on the mythical squad are MacMillen, 6-2½, and O'Neill, Pure and Snyder at 6-2. The shortest are McMillen and Lang at 5-10. The rest are six feet or over.

Various Careers
McMillen came to Gettysburg from Lancaster and now is a school teacher in Lewisburg. Hoke was from Hanover but since has moved to Schuylkill Haven. MacMillen never has left Atlantic City, N. J., and neither has Cico moved from Steepleton. Weems, who hailed originally from Ventnor, N. J., now is in the automobile business in Long Beach, Calif. O'Neill, Upper Darby, was killed in action during World War II. Harris, Philadelphia, now coaches the Philadelphia Textile team in that city, while Pure, also from Philadelphia, is a teacher-coach at Waynesboro High School. Belber, former Lower Merion star, now resides in Malvern, while Hare, a native of Haddon Heights, N. J., is in his third year of medical school. Lang, who lived in Philadelphia, now teaches and coaches at Shippensburg High School. Snyder, who holds every Gettysburg scoring and rebounding record, played for the past three seasons and will be graduated in June.

Bonus Coaxed Jackie Jensen From Football
By SYD KRONISH
AP Sports Writer
Pro football or baseball? Jackie Jensen had a difficult choice to make.

In football he was an established star at the University of California. Jackie was a sure shot for the pro grid ranks.

In baseball he showed great possibilities as a combination pitcher-outfielder. He helped pitch the California Bears to the NCAA championship over Yale in 1947. When he wasn't pitching he was playing the outfield.

Naturally he was besieged by numerous lucrative offers. The Cincinnati Redlegs offered to top the bids of the New York Yankees and the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Jackie decided on baseball. But he turned down the offers of the major league teams and instead signed a contract with Oakland of the Pacific Coast League.

The reason? He was given a bonus estimated at $40,000. That was in the summer of 1949.

Bought By Yanks
Five months later he was purchased by the Yankees. The Oakland team received five players plus $100,000 in cash.

Thrown in with the deal, on Manager Casey Stengel's insistence, was a little known infielder named Billy Martin—the same Martin who almost singlehandedly whipped the Brooklyn Dodgers in the 1953 World Series.

Jensen was traded by the Yanks to the Washington Senators in the middle of the 1952 season. The Yanks got Irv Noren in return.

At the end of the '53 season the Senators swapped Jensen to the Boston Red Sox for pitcher Maury McDermott and outfielder Tom Umphlett.

Has Power, Speed
Last year Jackie played in 152 games for the Red Sox. He hit 25 homers, batted in 117 runs (third best in the American League after Doby and Berra), scored 94 runs, hit .276 and tied for the most sacrifice flies with 11.

In addition to power, Jackie has shown fine speed on the base paths. In 1954 he led the circuit in stolen bases with 22. An ironic twist is that he set a new league record for grounding into double plays in one season. He did it 32 times.

WICHITA, Kas. (P)—The Wichita Chamber of Commerce has geared its membership drive this year to the enthusiasm of World Series fans.

To the four members bringing in the most new memberships by the deadline—three days before the series opens—it will give tickets and expense money for two days.

Blaylock Looking Good For Phillies

ROANOKE, Va. (P)—Rookie first baseman Marv Blaylock promises to provide some of the hitting power sadly needed by the Philadelphia Phillies if they hope to battle their way into the National League's first division this season.

Blaylock was the big power at the plate in the first game of Tuesday's twin bill with the Boston Red Sox. Marv hit a pair of homers, good for five runs batted in.

Pole vault, Gorman, Bill Woods, R. Pennington.

Broad jump, Washington, Gorman, Tonsel.

All entry nominations are subject to revision, it was announced by Coach Forney. Assisting the Warrior mentor in coaching this season are Fred Haehnlen and James Feathers.

SAYS AUSSIES ARE PREPARED FOR OLYMPICS

MELBOURNE (P)—Australia's preparations for the 1956 Olympics, reported lagging behind schedule, today had the approval of Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, who is making a special, first-hand inspection because of the rumors.

Brundage, long an Olympic watchdog as head of the United States committee before taking over as chairman of the international group in 1952, said, "So far, I have seen nothing to seriously criticize." He added he was confident all preparations for the games would be completed in time.

Brundage visited the main stadium at the Melbourne Cricket Club yesterday and found everything adequate, except for the need of a coat of paint. He also suggested the addition of dressing rooms, showers and toilet facilities.

He assured the officials he would do as much as he could when he returned to the United States to dispel rumors that the Aussie weren't 100 per cent behind the games. "You have received a lot of bad publicity," he said. "I will do my best to counter it."

Nevada Gives OK To Moore Fight

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (P)—Nevada's Athletic Commission has given official sanction to the May 2 fight between light heavyweight Champion Archie Moore and Nino Valdez. It is a promotional venture by Jack Kearns. The commission was given a copy yesterday of the contract between the fighters and Kearns.

Moore's appearance was okayed despite the California Athletic Commission's warning that Moore will not be granted a license to fight again in that state because of the report of his private physician that he has a heart murmur that indicates strenuous exertion might be hazardous.

THOMPSON HAS SORE SHOULDER

MILWAUKEE (P)—The injury hoodoo that has run with Bobby Thompson, the Flying Scot, since he hooked up with the Milwaukee Braves threatened again today to keep him sidelined on opening day.

Thompson, pushing aside chances that 1955 will turn out like last year, said he'll "be ready to go" when the Braves open their home season against Cincinnati Tuesday at County Stadium. He looked forward to the coming campaign and said he wants "just a good year, for a change."

His immediate problem was an ailing right shoulder that brought him into town this week for examination and treatment by the team physician.

Thompson came to the Braves in the winter deal a year ago that sent Johnny Antonelli to the Giants. He fractured his right ankle in Florida in the 1954 spring drills and was out of the lineup until late in the season. Even when he returned he saw only limited action.

Dr. Albert Schmidt, team physician, X-rayed his shoulder Tuesday and said the results were negative. He said a sore elbow that bothered Thompson earlier in the exhibition season may have caused a reaction in the shoulder. Additional X-ray treatment is slated for Saturday.

The Gettysburg public schools will be closed Good Friday but will resume sessions Monday morning. In Littlestown classes were omitted today and Friday but will resume Monday. Most other public schools of the county will take Friday and Monday as holidays.

Easter vacation at Gettysburg College began Wednesday and will end next Wednesday. Seminars have been on vacation since April 1 and will not go back to classes until April 12.

CASEY DEFENDS MICKEY
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (P)—When Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees was told that a National League manager had said "Mickey Mantle is baseball's most overrated player," Stengel said:

"If he (the manager) were a pitcher he wouldn't say that. Sure, he's had a bad knee. But it's all right now. He's fast. I can't say he's the fastest man in baseball because we didn't hire him to sprint. We hired him to play centerfield and he does a pretty good job at it for the Yankees."

STARS SEEK TO ALTER RULE ON SPRING DRILLS

CINCINNATI (P)—Major league player representatives went back to work on the playing fields today after a conference on such work-day things as starting times, minimum pay and lawyer fees.

The players recommended at a meeting Tuesday a relaxing of the rule which forbids the beginning of spring training prior to March 1.

The rule was put into effect at the urging of the players but the representatives reversed themselves and said that men wanting to report in February should be able to do so.

However, the representatives voted that no player should be required to report before March 1. They also asked retention of the rule that sets March 10 as the starting date for exhibition contests.

Up To Clubs
Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies and Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians said the matter of an earlier reporting would be up to the individual clubs and players if the recommendation is approved by the clubs.

The major leaguers also asked the clubs to hike the minimum salaries of baseball players from the present $6,000. Roberts and Feller, spokesmen for their fellow representatives, did not disclose how much of an increase was being sought.

J. Norman Lewis of New York was hired as the players' attorney for one year at a flat fee. The figure was not divulged. He helped set up the players' pension plan but he had never been put on a regular annual salary.

SNOW GOLFERS A HARDY GROUP

COLDWATER, Mich. (P)—Lo, the poor golf widow. Here's some bad news for her:

A new winter-time passion around Coldwater is golfing in the snow. Each Sunday morning these snow-bird golfers gather at one of the country clubs in Coldwater, Marshall, Albion or Hillsdale. The host team provides coffee and refreshments—which are carted around on a sled.

The players use red, chartreuse and orange golf balls. They have lost only a few. Furthermore, they're never troubled by sand traps, although putting is one-way difficult.

Average Soars
The golfers claim they average only 10 strokes above their normal scores.

The idea started last October when Jim McComb and Bill Short, both of Coldwater, vowed they'd play golf on New Year's Day—"come snow or high water."

When New Year's rolled around, there was no high water, but plenty of snow.

Undaunted, they played their round of golf and soon word of their snow game spread to neighboring communities.

SOME STURGEON!
CHEBOYGAN, Mich. (P)—The waters of Mullet Lake have yielded a record-breaking sturgeon. Ward Spray of Cheboygan speared the fish which weighed 175 pounds, measured 7 feet 2 inches and had a girth of 37½ inches. The old record, which has stood for four years, was 6 feet 6 inches and 152½ pounds.

2 CARDINALS' HURLERS BOW TO WHITE SOX

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Unless Eddie Stanky really is a changed man this season, $5 will get you $10 the scrappy little manager of the St. Louis Cardinals had his hands jammed in his hip pockets, staring bitterly at the ground and ripping the turf in short jabs with his spikes at the Little Rock ball park yesterday.

Harvey Haddix, his southpaw ace, and the struggling Vic Raschi were belted for a 13-3 decision by the Chicago White Sox.

It was pitching, or the lack of it, that outweighed the Cards' hitting power and scuttled them in sixth place last season. Haddix particularly had trouble. He was off to a bad start and then, after gaining his form, he was injured and lost his effectiveness again.

Thus far this spring—with opening day just around the weekend—Haddix has had it rough. In five exhibition appearances he has a 0-3 record. Raschi, bothered by a bad back, made his first appearance in the White Sox game.

Dodgers Beat Senators
In the first game to be played in a major league park this season, Brooklyn defeated Washington in Griffith Stadium 6-0. Carl Erskine blanked the Senators with some difficulty. He gave up 10 hits.

Brooklyn slugged Bob Porterfield for 8 of its 11 hits.

Billy Hoelt, trying to evade Detroit bullpen, allowed just two hits, one a Hank Aaron home run, in six innings as the Tigers lost to Milwaukee 2-1.

Cleveland nudged the New York Giants 3-2. Dave Pope doubled across the winning run in the 10th. Jim Hearn looked good for the Giants, yielding just one earned run in the seven innings he worked. He also homered. Herb Score, the Indians' prize youngster, was touched for a first-inning run—the first he's allowed this spring—but no more in four frames.

Sammy White hit a home run in the fourth with two on to break up a duel between Boston's Ike Delock and Philadelphia's Murry Dickson. The Red Sox went on to win 9-3.

Baltimore edged Pittsburgh 3-2 when Roger Bowman walked Vern Stephens with the bases loaded in the ninth.

FREAK SCORE BEATS BUFFALO

BUFFALO, N. Y. (P)—Shed a tear, please, for the vanishing Buffalo—victims of the cruellest quirk of fate.

The Buffalo Bisons dropped another game in the American Hockey League Calder Cup playoffs last night when a puck bounced off a Pittsburgh player's head and into the Bisons' net.

The strange score, which broke a third period 2-2 deadlock, gave the Hornets a 3-2 triumph and put them ahead in the best-of-seven series, three games to one.

Goals by Willie Marshall and Frank Mathers had the Hornets out front 2-0 toward the end of the second period when the Bisons briefly came to life. Buffalo's Dick Gamble sank a long one, and Sam Bettio followed up 31 seconds later with another.

In the third period, Mathers fired one from 15 feet out. The puck rebounded off the wire mesh behind the goal, struck Hornet Bob Solinger on the head, and bounced into the net.

Solinger got credit for the goal—and two stitches on his head.

The series moves to Pittsburgh Saturday night.

59 PROS AND 19 AMATEURS SET FOR MASTERS

AUGUSTA, Ga. (P)—Snead or Souchak? Hogan or Hebert? Midcoff or Mangrum? Who will win the 19th Masters golf championship?

Either one of them could. But maybe none of them will. There are many more fine golfers in the field of 78 who could capture this tournament and earn one of golf's most cherished titles.

Fifty-nine professionals and 19 amateurs were assigned tee times for today's first round of the 1955 Masters, which in 21 years has grown in prestige until it ranks second only to the National Open.

The Masters was born a full-blown success in 1934. Grand slam king Bobby Jones, who helped design the Augusta National golf course where the Masters is played, came out of retirement to compete in it.

There were two schools of thought in pretournament speculation about the possible winner of this year's classic. One leaned toward the younger golfers, pointing to the way they had stolen much of the limelight during the winter tour. The other stuck with the veterans, pointing to the tremendous pressure generated in this prestige-loaded event.

Sam Snead, three-time Masters winner and the defending champion, and Ben Hogan, a two-time winner who lost to Snead in a playoff last year, head the corps of veterans.

Many Hot Contenders
Others in the field with several years of tournament success behind them include Cary Middlecoff, Lloyd Mangrum, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Tommy Bolt, Ed Furgol, Julius Boros, Lew Worsham, Byron Nelson, Jackie Burke and Al Bessellink.

Mike Souchak, the former Duke football player and leading money winner on the winter circuit, is the king bee of the younger generation, which includes Gene Littler, Jay Hebert, Rex Baxter Jr., Billy Maxwell, Joe Conrad, Arnold Palmer and Bob Rosburg.

Today York Springs is scheduled to entertain Belling Springs while Biglerville will meet Delone on the Cannons' field next Tuesday at 4 p.m.

EDEN, DESPITE "TEMPER," CAN HOLD HIS TONGUE

By ALVIN STEINKOPF
LONDON (AP)—When young Anthony Eden first stepped out on the British political stage soon after World War I, he impressed his associates by being such a contrast to his father.

Although capable of outbursts of temper at home or in his office, Anthony was unfailingly polite and urbane in company, on the public platform or in the House of Commons. His self-control was almost too complete.

This was not at all like his father Sir William Eden, seventh baronet of West Auckland, country gentleman, artist, amateur boxer, ardent hunter and gardener. Sir William is remembered as a man who could be magnificently angry.

"The Quiet One"
Eden was born at Windlestone June 12, 1897. His mother Lady Sybil Frances Grey Eden called him "the quiet one" of her sons. The baronetcy in the family passed on to his older brother Sir Timothy, who conducts a school in Hampshire.

He went to Eton, and, after war service, completed his education at Christ Church, Oxford. The emphasis was on Oriental languages, and his scholarship was so brilliant that one of his Oxford tutors predicted, "He will be foreign secretary by the time he is 40." He made it at 38.

After the war, in which he served with distinction as an officer of the King's Royal Rifle Corps, he considered a military career. But politics was the greater attraction. After an initial defeat, he won election in 1923 to the House of Commons from the Warwick and Leamington constituency, which he has represented ever since.

Becomes Foreign Secretary
In December 1935, on the resignation of Sir Samuel Hoare, he became foreign secretary. He resigned from the exalted post, an action of political courage and rebounded to his credit, after disagreements with Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain in 1938.

At the start of World War II he returned to ministerial office as dominions secretary. When Winston Churchill became prime minister in 1940, he was appointed secretary of state for war. In a few months Churchill had him back at the Foreign Office. Eden worked hard to strengthen British-Russian-American relations and had a hand in shaping the pact which became the United Nations. He took Britain's part in many international conferences, leading the British delegation to San Francisco in 1945 when the U.N. Charter was drafted.

Eden holds to the conviction that international cooperation is the only hope of lasting peace.

The rise of Clement Attlee as a national figure and the success of his Labor party in the election of 1945 swept Eden out of the government, but not out of Parliament.

Churchill came back in 1951, and he promptly restored Eden to the foreign secretaryship.

430 COMPANIES TO HOLD ANNUAL APRIL MEETINGS

TODAY'S BUSINESS MIRROR
By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The stockholder comes into his glory this month. Bitter or beaming, he is trekking to annual meetings. At least 430 companies are holding meetings this month—70 of them on one day alone, April 26.

Hot battles for proxies are being staged prior to some of them. The most publicized is the squabble between Sewell Avery and Louis Wolfson for control of Montgomery Ward. That annual meeting is set for April 22 in Chicago.

The big bull market of the last 18 months has doubtless made a lot of new stockholders. "The public" started buying stocks last fall. And now for the first time many new shareholders are signing proxies or looking up transportation to the site of the annual

Many Topics Up
Dividend policies are often keenly discussed. Some stockholders would like to have more of the profits passed around and less retained for management to use in running or expanding the business.

Prospects of stock splits are eagerly asked about. Management frequently has to answer questions about merger rumors.

The size of the turnouts at annual meetings has been growing steadily of recent years. Part of this is due to hot fights over control of some companies. More of it is traced to increased interest of stockholders in how their companies are run. And some of it is due to the increased number of shareholders of the giant corporations.

The New York Stock Exchange, in the April issue of its magazine, The Exchange, out today, points out that American Telephone & Telegraph had 1,307,215 owners at the start of the year. This was about three times the number of those holding stock in General Motors, the second in rank. Next in order: Jersey Standard Oil, General Electric, U. S. Steel, Cities Service, Socony-Vacuum, RCA, Pennsylvania Railroad and Consolidated Edison of New York.

OFF-THE-RECORD DINNERS MAY BE "OUT OF ORDER"

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The admiral and generals and high government officials will probably eat at home for a while.

Adm. Robert B. Carney certainly must wish he hadn't gone to an off-the-record dinner with newsmen March 24. There's been indignation in Washington ever since. President Eisenhower disagrees with what Carney is reported to have said. Carney denies he said what some reporters wrote that he said. And newsmen who were there can't agree among themselves on what he said.

As a result of this all-around foulup, off-the-record dinners may cease for a while. Probably not for long though. Newsmen and high government officials have been getting together at them for years. The officials are the invited guests of the reporters. This is the purpose.

Not Quoted Or Named
To get inside information which can be used in spot news stories or as background or preparation for events that unfold later.

There is almost always one understanding: The official talking off the record is not to be quoted by name or identified as the source of the information. This doesn't always work. If the news he gives out is sensational enough, his name eventually may leak out.

NO ROOM FOR ERROR—Operator of this bus must drive carefully through banked snow on run connecting French Alpine resort of Val d'Isere and Bourg Saint Maurice.

Carney, although not named at first, was reported by some newsmen as saying the Red Chinese were expected to start an attack on the Matsu and Quemoy Islands by mid-April. Others said he believed the Reds would simply be "capable" of such an attack by then or later. Carney's name soon leaked out.

No Official Data
While the country was still shocked by these stories indicating a nearness of war, another administration figure told newsmen at a similar dinner a few nights later the administration had no information on an impending attack.

According to the agreement, this source was not quoted as saying that in the stories which followed. Some of them said flatly Eisenhower had no such information. Some newspaper readers might have gotten the impression Eisenhower himself said that. Other newsmen wrote that "administration sources" said no attack was expected.

Several newspapers later said these stories stemmed from James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary.

NEW RED EFFORT
MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government has set up a new ministry in an apparent move to boost coal production. It announced last night the formation of a ministry of construction of coal industry enterprises to be headed by Leonid G. Malinikov, former ambassador to Romania.

The U.S. steel industry has a capacity of 126 million tons a year.

Milk At 12 Cents In Utah Price War

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—At least one major grocery chain said it would sell milk at 12 cents a quart when stores opened today—the fourth day of northern Utah's bitter milk price war.

The figure is 2 cents below what milk sold for yesterday and 9 cents under the price at which milk was selling before the war started Monday. Other retailers—in Salt Lake City, Provo and Ogden—were expected to follow suit.

Kisses Girl As He Drove; She Pays Fine

OMAHA (AP)—When Omaha police saw Mason D. Wagner, 24, Council Bluffs, Iowa, kissing his fiancée while driving his car they decided it constituted reckless driving.

In Traffic Court, Judge Robert Nelson agreed and fined Wagner $15 and costs. Then the judge asked: "Was it worth it?" Wagner merely smiled.

Court officers said Wagner's fiancée paid the fine.

CEREMONIAL ENTERTAINMENT

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru says pomp and pageantry are justified on state occasions—to bring color into the lives of people whose existence often is drab. The prime minister was defending an appropriation of $4,200 for the construction of a shelter and tank for an elephant on the grounds of the President's house. The elephant will be used in state ceremonies.

CHAVEZ FEELS ARMY, MARINES MUST BE STRONG

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Chavez (D-NM) said today he is certain efforts will be made in the Senate to add some money to President Eisenhower's defense budget with the aim of preventing cuts in Army and Marine strength.

Chavez, chairman of an Appropriations subcommittee considering the 35-billion-dollar military money bill, said, "I think that Gen. Ridgway is right, and his views will get full consideration."

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff, told the subcommittee late yesterday he had recommended that Army strength be maintained at 1,300,000 men during the fiscal year starting July 1. That is 273,000 more than the figure recommended by the President. Army strength was 1,300,000 Jan. 1; it now is down to about 1,270,000.

Estimates were that it would require more than a billion dollars additional for the Army to maintain strength at the figure Ridgway recommended. Its share of the Eisenhower budget is about seven billion.

Avoids Direct Dispute
In his prepared statement, Ridgway avoided any direct dispute with the administration's orders for cutbacks. But under questioning he said: "I strongly recommended a substantially higher figure."

The reduced figure in the President's budget "was not approved by the Joint Chiefs of Staff," Ridgway said, but was determined by "our President, the commander in chief, and other 'competent civilian officials' who had to consider 'many factors besides the military.'"

Declaring the international situation has "definitely deteriorated" since the cutbacks were decided upon last December, Ridgway said, "The basic reasons behind my original recommendation have not altered." But he added that "when competent authority makes a decision," he accepts it.

The subcommittee recessed its hearings until April 19.

WOULD BAN USE OF A-WEAPONS IN DEFENSE OF FORMOSA ISLES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.) has appealed to President Eisenhower to ban the use of atomic weapons in any defense of Quemoy and Matsu. He said in a statement that the employment of other than conventional weapons in fending off any Red Chinese attack against the islands "could provoke massive retaliation against American families and American homes."

Kerr said last night he knows Eisenhower wouldn't get into a war over the islands if there was any alternative "but if he decides it must be done, I want to urge that no atomic weapons be used in doing it."

In an interview, he added: "I am afraid we are getting into the position of depending on atomic weapons because of worship of the budget by administration leaders. Congress should reverse this policy before it is too late."

Quick Disagreement
Quick disagreement was expressed by other senators.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said he recognizes all of the dangers involved but thinks Kerr is "100 per cent wrong."

"In the atomic age we must adjust our military tactics," he said. "To fight a war with one arm tied behind our backs would be strangely reminiscent of what Truman did in Korea."

Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) said "we would be very foolish to withhold our most effective weapon" if the Communists attack.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said he agrees with Kerr that "conventional" arms and forces should not be cut and American reliance placed entirely on atomic weapons.

"But as long as there is no international agreement to limit weapons of this type, it becomes a matter for the President himself to decide at the time," he said. "I doubt that it is reasonable to ask the President to say ahead of time what he would decide."

Management, Labor Have Same Goals

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—President Thomas B. McCabe of the Scott Paper Co. says management must "prove to free men and women everywhere that our competitive enterprise system is the best security in which to invest their work and their capital."

"We must show our employees that their goals and those of management are one and the same and that neither can be attained without the other," he said.

McCabe spoke last night before 400 business leaders attending the eighth annual dinner of the Production Conference of the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce. McCabe received a citation for his "Outstanding contribution to American industry."

PUC Asked To OK Phone Service Change

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Public Utility Commission was asked yesterday to authorize elimination of four-party service in Bell Telephone Company's Ambler exchange when dial equipment is installed June 5. The company said its proposal would change 1,672 customers from four-party to two-party service, raising their monthly charges from $2.50 to $3.

The exchange serves 4,950 users in Ambler, Upper Dublin, Whitmarsh, Whitpain, Horsham and Lower Gwynedd Twp.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. George M. Leader has approved pardons and commutations of sentence for persons whose clemency pleas were recommended by the state Pardons Board after its March 23-24 sessions.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign aid chief Harold E. Stassen announced that he will reject all bids for a Pakistan grain storage project and call for new bids, to protect the "no breath of scandal" record he said his administration now enjoys.

The first railroad in China was a short narrow gauge line between Shanghai and Woosung, completed in 1876, but in 1878 the line was torn up and all the rails and equipment deliberately sunk in the sea because of opposition to its operation.

SQUARE OFF FOR UAW TALKS ON "ANNUAL WAGE"

By GLENN ENGLE
DETROIT (AP)—The giants of labor and industry square off today on a union's most ambitious demand since organizing days—the guaranteed annual wage.

The principals are the billion-dollar General Motors Corp., the nation's biggest industrial firm, and Walter Reuther's 1½-million-member CIO United Auto Workers, the nation's biggest union.

The arena is a small room in the massive General Motors Building in midtown Detroit, scene of the start of formal bargaining on a new contract.

350,000 At Stake
Immediately at stake are the fortunes of some 350,000 General Motors employees across the country. But the significance of the negotiations goes far beyond this. A guaranteed wage plan at General Motors might set a pattern for the entire auto industry and possibly for much of other heavy industry as well. That could have a tremendous impact on the nation's economy.

The UAW plans to concentrate its guaranteed wage fire on these two biggest producers in the industry. Ford negotiations start Tuesday.

Could Delay Showdown
If this course were followed, the UAW could delay a showdown at GM simply by agreeing to a contract extension for a few days.

Neither GM nor Ford has commented directly on the guaranteed wage demand. GM officials have hinted at their opposition, however, by emphasizing the regularity of employment in their plants for years.

The UAW guaranteed wage plan calls for 40 hours' pay if an employee works any part of a week. The employee would be guaranteed enough to "maintain his living standards" any week he is laid off completely.

Other Demands
The guarantee would cover 52 weeks for workers with seniority and would be dovetailed with state unemployment compensation.

Other union demands include a wage boost of some 5 cents an hour, an increase in the present 5-cent hourly "productivity" factor, improvements in health and pension plans and other benefits. The current average wage in the auto industry is about $2.10 an hour.

Premier Agrees To Five-Day Truce

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem and South Viet Nam's dissident religious and political sects agreed Wednesday to a five-day truce in the struggle over control of the government. A previous three-day truce expired early Wednesday morning. The agreement, which will end April 11, was the latest development in the continuous war of nerves. It came one day after the dissidents' united front complained to the U.S. Embassy that American support of Diem "raises in the population fears of civil war."

False Bottoms In Cans Yield Opium

BALTIMORE (AP)—Paint cans with false bottoms yielded 10½ pounds of opium worth $10,000, federal agents said. They were searching for more opium in at least three other cities.

Arrested here were two officers in the merchant marine serving aboard the SS Andrew Jackson. They were identified as John J. Stauble, 27, Bridgeport, Conn., a radio operator, and Carl D. Adamire, 33, Hatfield, Pa., first mate.

There are about 54½ million children under 18 in the United States, an increase of 13 million since World War II.

TO JUDGE ENTRIES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—N. W. Ayer & Sons says its judging of entries in the 25th annual newspaper contest for the Ayer Cup and other awards will be done here April 20. More than 830 English language daily newspapers entered the contest.

There are U.S. towns called Arabia, Argentina, Bavaria, Belgium, Bohemia, Bolivia, Siberia, Russia, Brazil and Poland says the National Geographic Society.

No Break In Sight In Scranton Strike

SCRANTON Pa. (AP)—No break was in sight today in the three-day old strike against the Scranton Transit Co. Some 30,000 regular riders are affected by the walk-out.

Mayor James T. Hanlon said yesterday a cooling off period might be advisable before an attempt is made to settle the walkout involving 268 operating and maintenance employees.

WOMEN ANGRY BECAUSE ALL MARRIES AGAIN

By ZAMAR SIDDIQI
KARACHI, Pakistan (P)—Prime Minister Mohammed Ali has married the second of the four wives the Moslem religion allows him. Aroused feminist groups today called emergency meetings to discuss the political leader's action.
Many Moslem feminist groups oppose continuance of the polygamy allowed by their religion. Indonesian President Soekarno's taking of a second wife last summer stirred a similar furor in his island republic.
An official of Ali's household confirmed today that the 46-year-old Prime Minister married his Canadian-born ex-secretary Alya Saadi, 30, in Beirut, Lebanon, last Saturday.
"Now it has happened, let us pray everything passes peacefully," the official said.
Is Formally Received
All brought his new wife home from Beirut yesterday. She was formally received by a delegation of Cabinet ministers and officials at the airport.
A room had been prepared for her on the first floor of Ali's residence. Not far away, in a room on the same floor, lives Ali's first wife Hamida, 40. She is the mother of his two sons, 14 and 11.
Hamida's private secretary told a newspaper today the first wife is "considerably grieved," stays in her room and dines alone.
The household official said both wives will stay in Ali's residence for the present—unless Hamida decides to move elsewhere.
Ali's new wife is the daughter of Canadians who emigrated from

Michigan's Voting Was Very Close

DETROIT (P)—Michigan's spring election is three days past, but results were so close that winners in at least three of the eight contests will not be known until the official canvass 20 to 30 days hence.
Even the official count likely will not settle the outcome of the tight spring election in state history. Leaders of both the Democratic and Republican parties, conceding nothing, say they will call for a recount after announcement of the official tabulation of the million-plus votes which were cast.
With only one small precinct in the Upper Peninsula unreported, unofficial results gave Democrats victory in five races and Republicans in three. The missing precinct could not change the unofficial outcome since the precinct normally has fewer than 100 voters.
a part of Syria which now is in Lebanon. Their daughter was born in southern Alberta and educated at Edmonton.
She met Ali in 1949 in Ottawa, where he was Pakistan's high commissioner to Canada, and in January 1952 went to work in his office. When he was named ambassador to Washington, she became his official secretary and had held the post ever since.

MAN ACCUSED OF MURDER IS NABBED BY FBI

PITTSBURGH (P)—Former Army Lt. Aldo Icardi, accused by the Italian government of the wartime slaying of an OSS major, was arrested by the FBI today on a charge of attempting to influence a court witness.
Fred Hallford, agent in charge of the local FBI office, said the FBI acted on a complaint filed by the U.S. attorney. The defendant in the trial is Louis A. Balber, 44, of Pittsburgh.
Balber is one of 23 contractors and salesmen indicted last month on charges of trying to defraud the Federal Housing Administration.
Hallford said the complaint charges that Icardi on or about March 30 "did offer a thing of value and promised a certain performance to a person who is about to be a witness in the trial of the United States against Balber."
Hallford declined to identify the witness but added the complaint charges Icardi tried to persuade the witness not to testify against Balber and promised that Balber, in return, would make certain repairs to the witness' home.
The 34-year-old Icardi and Sgt. Carl Lodolce of Rochester, N.Y., were tried in absentia for the slaying of Maj. William Holahan of New York. He was shot to death behind enemy lines in northern Italy in 1944 and his body tossed into a lake. It was recovered after the war.
The Italian courts sentenced Icardi to life imprisonment and Lodolce to 17 years in jail. U.S. courts, however, refused to extradite them to Italy. Both Icardi and Lodolce denied the slaying.

16-Year-Old Boy Is Indicted For Murder

PITTSBURGH (P)—A 16-year-old boy has been indicted for murder in the hammer slaying of his great aunt last Jan. 25.

An Allegheny County grand jury returned the indictment yesterday against William Wright, Mrs. Evelyn Thomas, 67, was slain in her home with a ball peen hammer. The boy was arrested March 4 at the George Junior Republic Correctional School in Grove City. He was committed to the school last year for theft and running away from home.

His father, Robert Wright, of Colingdale, Delaware County, notified police after he learned the slaying had occurred on the same day William ran away

FIRST WIFE HAS 2ND WIFE JAILED

CHICAGO (P)—A 52-year-old woman was jailed yesterday for failing to pay a $25,000 alienation of affections judgment won by her husband's former wife.

Mrs. Theresa M. Pritchard, 42, paid $4.50 in advance for a week's board for Mrs. Alma Ferguson at the Cook County Jail. By paying this sum each week, Mrs. Pritchard can keep Mrs. Ferguson in jail for six months under the malice count contained in the judgment returned by a Circuit Court jury April 4, 1954. Mrs. Ferguson did not defend the suit.

Mrs. Ferguson's husband, Roy, 49, distributor for a bread company, formerly was married to Mrs. Pritchard. She resumed use of the former name after they were divorced in 1949. Ferguson said he had employed a lawyer to try to get his wife out of jail.

Mrs. Pritchard declined to say whether she will keep Mrs. Ferguson in jail for the full six months. In her suit, Mrs. Pritchard said she had been married to Ferguson for 7½ years when Mrs. Ferguson wooed and won him away from her. She had asked $50,000 but the jury set the amount at $25,000.

Ferguson said, "We haven't got $25,000."

gress of the Latin Medical Union, the 79-year-old pontiff said, "Surgery today dares to undertake and achieve successful results in what seemed impossible a century or two ago."

But he added: "It's daring gives rise to only one anxiety—that of seeing it exceed the limits of moral licitness (lawfulness)."

ORDERS ARREST OF M. MONROE

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — They've got a warrant out for Marilyn Monroe in Beverly Hills.

Municipal Judge Charles J. Griffin has been hoping to see the shapely blonde since soon after last Nov. 21, when she got a traffic ticket for driving without a license. She failed to appear in court to answer it.

Judge Griffin issued a warrant in February, setting bail at $100. Morris Brown, a Champaign, Ill., bail bondsman, posted it as a "friendly gesture." Yesterday Judge Griffin issued another warrant for her arrest and this time set bail at $250.

Miss Monroe's attorney W. C. Fields Jr., son of the late comedian, asked for a continuance on grounds that "contract commitments require Miss Monroe to be in New York." Said the judge, referring to her signed traffic ticket promising to appear in court: "She also has contract commitments here."

He ordered the $100 bail posted by Brown forfeited and set the

Atomic Ack-Ack Joins Growing U.S. Arsenal Of Nuclear Weapons

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Atomic ack-ack appeared today to have joined America's growing arsenal of nuclear weapons.

The atomic era moved another military step forward yesterday as history's highest recorded blast flared in the sky six miles above the Nevada desert.

The burst came from a device dropped from an Air Force B36 bomber flying at 40,000 feet or higher. The detonation occurred above 30,000 feet—six times as high as any previous nuclear blast.

Small as it was in the range of A-weapons, this prototype of a nuclear air-to-air missile probably packed enough punch to wipe out an entire formation of enemy planes.

Great Boost To Defense

Ground-to-air missiles with nuclear warheads also are being developed, the Defense Department indicated last week. Whether any such test will be held in the current series has not been disclosed. But the firing of the 280mm. atom cannon here in 1953 undoubtedly has paved the way for smaller, longer range artillery capable of firing a nuclear shell.

"Atomic air defense weapons will greatly increase our ability to repel an enemy air attack," the Defense Department says. The power of the first anti-aircraft device tested was "relatively limited" compared with the standard A-bomb. The three-second fireball and tiny doughnut-shaped cloud indicated a yield of perhaps only a few kilotons, compared with the 20 kilotons—20,000 tons of TNT—of the standard A-bomb.

PLAN FOR CAMP IMPROVEMENTS

Tentative plans for remodeling some facilities at Boy Scout Camp Conewago, Dicks Dam, were made Tuesday night at a meeting of the Conewago District committee.

Renovation of the kitchen in the main lodge, application of creosote to all buildings and other improvements to the lodge structure were proposed by Nicholas D. Murphy, assistant camping chairman.

The district spring nature course was scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, May 7 and 8, at Camp Conewago and a commissioners' roundtable was slated for the camp Wednesday, April 20. Special programs will be presented for Cub, Scout and Explorer units.

A district board of review will be held Wednesday, April 13, in charge of Paul E. Aumen, advancement chairman.

Dayne Garrett, district chairman, invited all adult leaders to assist in a one-day work session at Camp Tuckahoe, near Dillsburg, Saturday, April 16, starting at 10 a.m. A commissioners' session was in charge of Robert Henry, field executive.

CHICAGO (AP) — The tradition that American boys love their dogs and hate piano lessons was given an extra twist when Danny Hayes, 12, had to play "Lovely Day" at a recital on the day his Cocker Spaniel wandered away from home.

Yorktowne Grocers Select Officers

All offices in the Associated Grocers of Central Pennsylvania went to York County at the election Monday night in the Yorktowne Wholesale Grocery Company. They are as follows: Raymond L. Shearer, York, president; Henry Strathmeyer, York, vice president; Eugene Gemmill, Red Lion, secretary; M. E. Sheffer, York, treasurer; Charles Willis, York, financial secretary; C. B. Craumer, York, assistant financial secretary; Russell Meckley, Spry, trustee; Chester Grim and T. C. Miller, both of York, trustees in term, and J. Philip Knobloch, York, advertising manager.

NEW NAVY PLANE IS BEING MADE

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Lockheed Aircraft Corp. has announced that production is under way for the Navy of a jet training plane equipped with an air blowing device that makes possible shorter landings and takeoffs.

The company also said in its announcement last night that the Navy plane will be the first two-place jet trainer to be used on both seagoing carriers and on land. The plane, known as the T2V, is "a milestone in aeronautical engineering" because of the air blowing development, Lockheed engineers said. Highly compressed air is diverted from the jet's engine into a tube which runs inside the trailing edge of the wing and is blown through slots in the tube and out over the wing flap and aileron. This blowing, said the announcement, tends to make the normal flow of air over the wing hug the skin surface, thus increasing the plane's lift and delaying any tendency to stall.

In much of New England, daylight saving time was extended through October instead of ending in September during 1954 and the practice is spreading to other localities.

SEEKS EXPERT TO PROBE STATE POLICE FORCE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Col. Earl J. Henry, appointed 12 days ago as state police commissioner, said today he is "looking around for a qualified expert to make a study of the state police force."

"I am now gathering information on qualified experts in this field and I expect to recommend soon someone to Gov. (George M.) Leader to make the study," he added.

After Leader appointed Henry to succeed Col. C. M. Wilhelm in the $15,000-a-year post, the new commissioner promised "certain personnel changes will be made after a study is completed."

The 58-year-old commissioner also said he would meet with all troop and squadron commanders and all heads of state police training units.

"I either expect to have them all assemble in one group and talk to them or if that isn't possible I will meet with them in smaller groups," he explained. "At any rate, I expect to discuss many matters with them soon."

Study Larger Force Asked if he planned increasing the state police from its present 1,900 men force, Henry said. "This is one of the matters that will be included in the study."

Referring to present qualifications for eligibility to enter the state police, he said "I definitely intend to have that included in the study."

He also listed training procedures for recruits as a subject for

New State Salary Scale To Be Set Up

HARRISBURG (AP) — The governor's office says new salary scales for state employees—based on comparable positions in other government levels and to private industry—will be announced by April, 1956.

Dr. Gayle K. Lawrence, director of personnel under Gov. George M. Leader's secretary of administration, said the pay plan will be developed with a classification of all state positions.

All positions will be classified tentatively by next fall, Dr. Lawrence said yesterday, and each agency will then be given an opportunity to check job classifications within its jurisdiction.

Final allocation to classes will be made early next year with each employee being notified of his classification by March, 1956, Dr. Lawrence added.

CHEW ON THAT!

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Harry Gowan told police thieves stole a case of bubble gum valued at $19 from his truck.

He said he "doubts very much" that any change will be made in the markings and colors on state police patrol cars.

Such changes were made last week in New York State with the aim of making the patrol cars easier to identify.

With the governor's authorization, he said, he hopes to have some of his men attend training sessions of the Federal Bureau of Investigation Police Academy in Washington, D. C.

Henry is the only member of the Pennsylvania force to graduate from the academy.

2 PHYSICISTS ADVISED TO SHUN RED MEET

NEW YORK (AP) — Two physicists from this country say they were advised by government officials to turn down invitations to a Moscow scientific conference which concludes today.

Prof. Richard R. Feynman, of the California Institute of Technology, and Dr. Freeman J. Dyson, of the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, N.J., said yesterday they first accepted the Soviet invite. They said no "classified" matters were on the agenda of the Moscow meeting.

But, said Feynman, the Atomic Energy Commission advised him not to go, on the ground it would be an "unwarranted risk."

"There are several reasons why it may have been unwise for me to go even though theoretical discussions might have been valuable on both sides," he said.

Feynman said he had done classified work on the atom bomb project during World War II, and recently consulted with the Army on a highly classified subject.

Dyson, a British citizen, said he first told the Russians he would attend the conference — which opened March 31—if he could obtain the necessary papers.

Later, he said, the immigration service informed him that, even the granting of a re-entry permit to the United States would not guarantee he could get back in this country.

FIREMEN PLAN STREET PARADE WITH CARNIVAL

The Alpha Fire Company No. 1 will hold a parade in connection with the annual summer carnival it was decided at the April meeting of the company on Tuesday evening at the engine house. Fred C. Sentz, captain of the drill team, noted that several invitations have already been received to participate in parades during the coming season, and preliminary plans for the drill team. In order that all members may be informed of the plans for the coming season, there will be a meeting of the Uniform Rank at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the fire hall, and all drill team members are requested to be present.

Burnell M. Keagy, president, conducted the meeting, which opened with the group singing of "America" and group prayer. Harry W. Badgers, secretary, gave his report. Three candidates, Gerald Mummert, Mark E. Redding and John W. Smith, were elected to membership in the company. Nominated for membership were Harold Cook, Gene Hankey, Monroe Blair, Robert Morgret, Stanley Barthod and Robert Crouse. The following investigating committee was appointed: Robert Gordon, Edward L. Warner and Robert L. Snyder.

Bills amounting to $681.55 were ordered paid. Receipts for the evening totaled $1,395.35, which included donations from Donald M. Heath and Nora S. Engle, for services rendered by the company, and more than a thousand dollars received from the state for the company's relief fund, as their share of foreign insurance. Fire Chief Glenn E. Ohler reported four calls since the last meeting with the total damage of $6,500.

Ten Members Dropped

Truck foreman Dennis S. Wallick reported that both the LaFrance and the Mack trucks have been checked mechanically and new batteries purchased for each truck. Due to a slight accident to the Mack truck, it will be necessary to have the hood repaired and the cost of the work is covered by insurance. A social committee was appointed by President Keagy to serve for the next quarter, consisting of John P. McSherry, Paul E. Hiltbrich Jr. and Kenneth Hartsock.

Bernard M. Selby, general chairman for the annual company carnival, to be held this year August 1 through 6, announced the appointment of Paul E. Altoff as chairman of the publicity committee. A suggestion was made that a more adequate public address system be secured for use at public functions at the engine house and for the carnival. Kenneth Olinger and Jack H. Crouse were appointed as a committee to investigate the type and price of system available and to report at the May meeting. Dennis S. Wallick and Ivan D. Rickard were appointed as a committee to have the cupboards on the second floor of the engine house repaired.

During the meeting, the secretary announced that ten members had been dropped from the roll for non-payment of dues and three others

TV Makes Inroads On Honolulu Children

HONOLULU (AP)—A Honolulu mother recently asked a school principal not to give homework to her child "because he wouldn't have time to watch TV." Another asked that her son be allowed to take a nap at school because he stays up late watching TV.

The requests were cited in a school survey on television's effects on school work.

The survey, covering 660 pupils, showed more than half the children watched television every night on an average of three hours a night.

It showed fourth and fifth grades staying up the latest, till 10 and 11 p.m.

A Little Girl's Prayer

By Leighton C. Taylor

charity in thought and attitude, as well as in material things. We live snugly and selfishly in our own little world of hypocrisy, greed, and envy. The cruelties we inflict upon one another are an indictment against our professed Christian beliefs.

Our lack of compassion for those in need of unselfish friendship, our consuming ambition at the cost of others, our envy toward the success and position of our fellowman — all violate the precepts of the greatest teacher who ever lived. We go our merry way piously posing as Christians, while at the same time conducting our every day life in a fashion which Jesus deplored and condemned.

Relish Discomfort
From childhood through adulthood we take our envy and frustrations out on others, and often, in so doing, break the heart of a friend or loved one. Sometimes we even relish his or her discomfort and unhappiness.

Of all the moral crimes of which man is guilty, the worst as the writer sees it, is that of malicious gossip and slander. Unsubstantiated charges, tending to tarnish and injure another's reputation and character, are vile and unpardonable.

The sermon on the mount teaches responsibility to ourselves and to others, and inspires us to greater heights of decency. How many of us, honestly, try to assume such responsibility?

Some of our greatest men knew reverses and failure. Lincoln failed several times in business, and Jefferson died in straitened circumstances. Both were shamefully attacked and criticized while they lived, yet their contribution to our country cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

One Slip Is Costly
Many a public servant has labored honorably and constructively over a long period, only to be stigmatized in the end because of some unfortunate, inconsequential act or slip of the tongue. How easy it is to be unkindful of a worthy public service, which the ages will applaud, and to see and remember, all too plainly, the idiosyncrasies of a particular individual. This has been the experience of every one of our Presidents.

Our present Chief Executive, commenting on the presidency in reply to the query of a newspaperman, at the first White House press conference ever to be televised, said that the presidential office, like most things in this world, it is not unkindly blessing; in other words, that it has its fly in the ointment.

"God, Save The President"
President Eisenhower now has passed the half-way mark in his four-year term. His is the most exalted, yet most harrowing, office in this fear-haunted world. His responsibilities are awe-inspiring; and the thought occurs that maybe an antidote to the poison of much carping, unjust and even scurrilous criticism (such as that indulged in the other day by a United States Senator) would be to sing on Sundays, in every church, "GOD, SAVE THE PRESIDENT" — sung as do the British in behalf of their sovereign.

What a wonderful thing it would be if we could all take a vow (and keep it), that instead of envying others — trying to climb to where they sit and outstrip them of their successes, we would just be ourselves, live our own lives, put to the best use our own gifts and talents, and not mar the service we are qualified to render by jealously worrying over the superiority of other folks.

All men who occupy controversial positions, the duties of which require dealing with various types of people, suffer unjustified attacks. Perhaps that is why Hon. Douglas McKay, secretary of the interior in the President's Cabinet, is reported to have said to Mrs. McKay, when she complained of unfair criticism, "My dear, say your prayers when you go to bed, tell everybody to go to . . . and then go to sleep."

Unselfish Contribution
Recently there passed away in this Upper Adams Community a life-long resident, and, by the way, a classmate of the writer in Benderville's Little Red Schoolhouse of yester-year. This old friend had encountered more than her share of sorrow and hardship, but managed to weather the storm and to be known as a loving wife, mother and friend. Furthermore, she has taught school for a number of years in this neighborhood with marked success. Her pastor's remarks at funeral service were so pertinent, and in keeping with the deceased's life and character, that I feel they deserve mention in this article.

After recounting her praiseworthy career, he made the point that her unselfish contribution to the happiness and welfare of others doubtless had been taken for granted with scarcely a word of appreciation or commendation, not intentionally perhaps, but through sheer neglect or carelessness, and now it was too late. But I thought I could read between the lines that the speaker was thinking of that human weakness for remembering the traditional fly in the ointment, rather than long years of meritorious service.

"Malice Toward None"
If I may be permitted another reference to Lincoln, no other public figure suffered more unjust criticism than he, but let us quote him and then determine whether or not he deserved it.

"Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of his neighbor, rather let his neighbor's initiative and enterprise encourage him to build one for himself."

"With malice toward none, with charity for all," and, "Die when I may, I want it said of me by those who knew me best, that I always plucked a thistle and planted a flower where I thought a flower would grow."

Lincoln truly exemplified charity in thought and action. He was not only "good" but "nice and kind" — he was the answer to the Little Girl's prayer.

CHURCHILL CAN HAVE DUKEDOM

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill can have a dukedom conferred upon him by Queen Elizabeth II any time he gives the slightest indication he wants one, an aide said today.

Newspapers here have suggested his career might be fittingly crowned if he were to be named "Duke of London."

But so far Churchill has given no indication he wants to quit the House of Commons and take his place in the House of Lords as a peer of the realm. In fact, the retired Prime Minister had made it clear to friends he still intends to play an active part in the hurly-burly of British political life.

The informant has been in close touch with Churchill in an official capacity for many months. Commenting on published reports that Churchill declined the Queen's offer of a dukedom during the audience Tuesday in which he tendered his resignation as Prime Minister, this source said:

"How anyone could know what went on between the two is beyond me. I am quite sure that nobody who was present would have discussed the conversation."

Truman Calls Winnie "Great Man Of Age"

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Former President Truman, commenting on the retirement of British Prime Minister Churchill, said on Tuesday, "We are all sorry to see him retire."

He plans to write Churchill a letter in the next few days.

"Mr. Churchill is a great man of our age," Truman said.

PUBLISHER OF TRIBUNE LEAVES TRUST TO WIDOW

CHICAGO (AP) — The major portion of the vast publishing empire of the late Col. Robert R. McCormick has been left in trust for charity and education.

This was disclosed Tuesday in the reading of the will of the 74-year-old editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune, who died Friday after two years' illness. The will was executed last Dec. 18 and is expected to be filed for probate this week.

McCormick named three executives of the Tribune as executors who likewise assumed management of the newspaper. They are Chessor M. Campbell, vice president of the Tribune Co., who was elevated to president by the Board of Directors; William D. Maxwell, formerly managing editor of the Tribune and now placed in charge of the editorial department; and J. Howard Wood, treasurer of the Tribune Co. and now in charge of the business, advertising and circulation departments of the Tribune.

After disposing of numerous individual bequests and annuities, the will provided for the remainder of the estate to be established in two trusts. No value of the estate's holdings was disclosed. They include, however, McCormick's shares of stock of the Tribune and his beneficial interests in the McCormick-Patterson trust.

This trust owns controlling stock interest in the Tribune Co., which in turn is the parent company for the New York Daily News; various Canadian newspaper manufacturing and transportation subsidiaries; radio and television stations WGN, Chicago, and WPIX, New York, and other subsidiaries.

At the time of his death McCormick's beneficial interest was the largest individual holding in the McCormick-Patterson trust.

One of the charitable trusts set up in McCormick's will was allotted a million dollars to maintain Cantigny Farm, McCormick's home estate in suburban Wheaton, as a public park and museum after his widow "shall cease to reside there." Included are the land, buildings and contents, including McCormick's library on freedom of speech and of the press and on military science.

The second trust, to be known as the Robert R. McCormick Charitable Trust, is to be used for religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational purposes.

Largest of the individual bequests was to the widow, Maryland McCormick, who received one million dollars in trust, to be disbursed at the rate of $100,000 a year. If she lives beyond the 10 years another trust fund will pay her $100,000 a year for life.

Campbell, who is 57, started his newspaper career in 1915 in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and has been associated with the Tribune for 34 years. He has served as advertising manager, treasurer and vice president since 1951.

BULLETIN HAS CARNEY RECORD ON RED ASSAULT

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Bulletin said Wednesday the existence of a stenographic transcript which quoted Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, as telling a group of newsmen two weeks ago that Communists would attack the Nationalist-held islands of Quemoy.

Carney, testifying Tuesday before the Senate Appropriations Committee, denied having made such statements at an informal dinner held by newsmen two weeks earlier. News stories published after that dinner brought a comment from President Eisenhower that the probability of a mid-April attack was information that he did not have. The President deplored "war talk."

Said It Several Times

The story in the Bulletin Wednesday signed by Robert Roth, Washington correspondent of the newspaper, said Carney "probably did not know" that there was in existence a verbatim record of what the admiral actually said at a "background dinner" given by group

Texas Homes Ar e Crumbled By Wind

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP)—Tornadoes and twisting winds crumbled homes and trailed death and misery across north Texas Wednesday. At least one person was killed and 19 injured. Damage was in the millions of dollars.

Shortly after the storm waned at Sherman, 80 elderly persons were evacuated from a Church of Christ old folks home that caught fire at nearby Gunter, Tex. No one was injured.

of Washington correspondents two weeks ago."

"The record shows that Carney forecast the Red Chinese assault not once but four or five times and that he evaluated this as an inevitable development," the Bulletin reported.

The newspaper's story said "the stenographic report was not, of course, an official one or necessarily free from error, but it was taken by an experienced shorthand reporter and its language is supported by both the recollection and the longhand notes of others who were present."

The Bulletin said neither Roth nor any other member of its staff attended the dinner. The newspaper did not disclose the source of its information.

CANADIANS TO CUT INCOME TAX

OTTAWA (AP)—Canadians will get an income tax cut averaging 10 per cent starting July 1. The cut was included in the federal budget message presented Parliament Tuesday night.

The tax on big corporation incomes also will be reduced. Excise taxes on some items will be trimmed and others canceled.

The budget message presented by Finance Minister Walter Harris called for no major tax increases. Harris calculated government revenue during the current fiscal year ending next March 30 at $4,202,000,000. Expenses, he estimated would run $4,362,000,000 leaving a deficit of 160 million dollars. This would be Canada's second straight deficit year, after nine years of surpluses.

The finance minister said he was cutting taxes because he expected the gross national product—the value of all goods and services produced in the nation—to hit 26 billion dollars in 1956.

Eisenhower Praises Eden As Statesman

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has praised Sir Anthony Eden as a statesman of world stature and a "great successor" to Sir Winston Churchill.

In a prepared statement the President said:

"Sir Anthony Eden, my good and long-time friend, has been named the new Prime Minister of Her Majesty's government in the United Kingdom. He is a great successor to a great Prime Minister.

"In war and in peace, Sir Anthony has been an outstanding

Aged Electrician Is Burned To Death

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—John J. McAndrew, 90, retired electrician, burned to death on Wednesday after lightning struck his home in nearby Archbald and set it afire. Five other persons in the building fled to safety.

Archbald Police Chief Thomas Malone said lightning struck the McAndrew home during a severe storm. McAndrew was asleep in a second-floor bedroom.

The fire was discovered by McAndrew's son-in-law, Harold Cosgrove, 45, who awakened his wife, Delores, and their three children, ranging from 13 to 16 years. Cosgrove later attempted to go back into the two-story frame structure to save McAndrew but was driven back by flames.

Firemen later recovered McAndrew's body.

SOME FLIERS HAVE BOTH FEET ON THE GROUND

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N. M. (AP)—Some of the fliers in this defense base have both feet firmly on the ground. They work in the Radio Controlled Aerial Target section and fly little ships 12 feet long with an 11 foot wingspread.

The RCATS (pronounced our cats) ships could provide a field day for model airplane enthusiasts if they could get in the gates of the closely guarded base. Powered by a four cylinder, two cycle, 72 horsepower engine, they fly more than 200 miles an hour, climb at 3,000 feet per minute and rise to 25,000 feet. They stay up for an hour and have parachutes to let them down.

Denny has helped design the planes now being used which are larger versions of the models he built as a hobby.

They take off from a wheeled carriage that remains on a circular runway. In the center of the circle is a man with an electronic control box which has a little "joy stick" on the top. He flies the plane.

FRENCH YOUTH PROVES HIMSELF BY TOURING U.S.

By BRUCE HENDERSON
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Guy Chassagnard, 19, wants a job in France. So he came to the United States.
He landed in Montreal last July and rode his bicycle down to New York and across to Chicago. Then he turned south to Oklahoma and Texas and is going on across the country.
He explains that he is learning about the United States and writing about it for one Paris newspaper and five magazines. He wants a French newspaper job, but he had no experience and no influential friends. He's showing French editors what he can do.
French manufacturers equipped him with his bicycle, movie camera, tent, sleeping bag, air mattress, even a cigarette lighter. That bicycle has 150 pounds of equipment draped over it. A shipping firm arranged the Atlantic crossing.
He says he is going slowly, but when he is on the road he averages 80 miles a day. He started out with $70 and has $75 left. Folks take him in along the way.
Chassagnard says, "I have often the impression that Americans are too happy. They have not been

Chemistry Can Date Ancient Greek Coins

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Chemistry can date ancient Greek coins even when wear or corrosion make the dates on them illegible say Dr. Earle R. Caley and Wallace H. Deeble of Ohio State University.

Dr. Caley has hatched systematic changes in lead and tin content of Greek bronze coins. Using his figures, a chemist can date a coin with a possible error of 25 years each way, he says. He began assembling his data when he operated a chemical laboratory on the site of the Athens Agora during excavations in the late 30's.

destroyed two times in 30 years by the same enemy." His father is a railroad employe and his parents have been married 27 years. They have no car, no refrigerator, even no vacuum cleaner, he says, and adds: "France needs young people who are not afraid of life and other people." He is pleased with the help he has received from Americans. Often newspapers which he visits provide food and lodging for him. And the farther west he goes, the more friendly the people have been, he says.

"Beer Is Soft Drink"
One thing he finds strange is the "dry country" where alcoholic drinks have been banned.
"In France, beer is a soft drink," he says.

GRANDMA CAN BE A BLESSING OR A NUISANCE

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

A grandmother can be one of the grandest heaven-sent blessings, or she can be (to put it mildly) a terrible pain in the neck.

When your first grandchild is born, treat the young mother as a grown-up and capable of doing her job well. Treat her as an equal and a friend, not as a child who owes you special respect.

When the baby comes, admire him, and compliment the mother on the way she cares for her baby. Never, never let her feel that she doesn't know how to bring up her children properly. Don't criticize, don't offer advice unless it's asked for.

Much Has Been Learned
Even when you are asked, be modest about your experience. Remember, your experience is a generation old. Much has been learned about babies in this time and some of the new things are good.

Remember that the inexperienced mother may be in her heart a little afraid of your maturity and experience. She needs reassurance that she is able to handle her new job well.
At the same time, be helpful. A young mother is often overwhelmed at her new responsibilities and welcomes sympathetic help. But give help that builds up her ego and doesn't tear it down. If she is interested in reading about the newer methods of baby and child care, it might be a good idea if you read some of the same books and articles. You may be surprised to find some really good ideas. Fortified with modern knowledge, you can discuss baby raising without always thinking about the way you did it.

Try Baby Sitting
Try your best to baby sit whenever you are asked. Give your daughter or your daughter-in-law the feeling that you are a Rock of Gibraltar that she can always fall back on. Make your own home the kind of place the children love to come to. Also make it the place their parents will feel completely secure in leaving them.

When your grandchildren are with you, try your best to follow the same methods their mother uses. Don't over-indulge the children in your house so they are hard to live with when they go home.

BIRTH AND DEATH
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — An assisting physician successfully completed a Caesarean section after Dr. Richard W. Miller, 48, the attending surgeon, died of a heart attack in the operating room. Mother and child are "doing fine."

BABY CHANGES A LOT DURING FIRST MONTH

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

The Associated Press
Your baby has changed a lot in a month's time.

He has gained weight, probably between one and two pounds.

He's eating a little more regularly now. A few babies will be on a pretty regular schedule by a month of age, but lots of others can't hold out every time for four hours between feedings.

Don't be too rigid about your schedule, but at the same time make some effort to feed him at the same hours each day. Begin the day, if you can, at the same time each day, say 6 a.m. This way, the days fall more easily into a pattern.

When the next feeding time rolls around and your baby is still sound asleep, wake him up and feed him. You know he'll wake up soon anyway. If he wants to eat before feeding time, pick him up, rock him a bit and hold him

New School Plans TV For Every Classroom

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — The new two million dollar high school is going to have television in every classroom.

School directors have approved a $16,783 contract for a TV pipeline system they believe will be the first of its kind in the nation. It will be installed with the school's intercommunications and sound speaker system.

Tidon Boyd, principal, estimates that total cost of the TV system, including sets for classrooms and a camera for use in photographing closed-circuit events, will be about $32,000.

over to nearer the scheduled time.

Urge Him Into Schedule

Do what you can gently to urge him into a schedule. Don't make him yell an hour just because he's hungry off schedule. On the other hand if he's been fussy and just gone off to sleep at what should be the next feeding, let him sleep.

By a month of age many babies will have given up the 2 a.m. feeding. Never wake a baby for this middle of the night food. But as long as he wants it give it to him. When he grows up enough he'll want to sleep the night through just as much as you want him to. We don't teach this to a baby, he just grows up to it. And before he has grown up to it, it's much easier on everyone to give him the food.

The navel should be completely healed now. Sometimes the navel protrudes a little especially when the baby cries. This means the muscles of the abdomen haven't grown together as they should. The doctor will probably put an adhesive strap over the navel to help the muscles come together.

Still Jumps At Noise

The month-old baby will still jump in his whole body at a sudden loud noise. But he will respond more to soft pleasant sounds. He may even stop crying as you talk to him.

Your baby's eyes are better coordinated now. Most of the time his eyes will move together, and he will follow a light with his eyes. His vision however, is still poor and indistinct. He may like to look at something bright. He hasn't begun to play yet. His arms and legs fly around in a purposeless way.

The month-old baby has usually learned one thing he can do on purpose — and that is to smile.

LADIES BUY HATS TO WIN PRAISE, SAYS MILLINER

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

No matter what the jesters say, most women buy hats to coax compliments from their husbands or boy friends, says Reggi Lish, one of a millinery dynasty that turns out more than a million hats a year.

Blonde, dynamic Reggi has been mad about hats since high school days. Daughter of a hat maker, Samuel Lish, she thinks no woman looks well dressed without one and makes it a point always to wear one of her own newest creations.

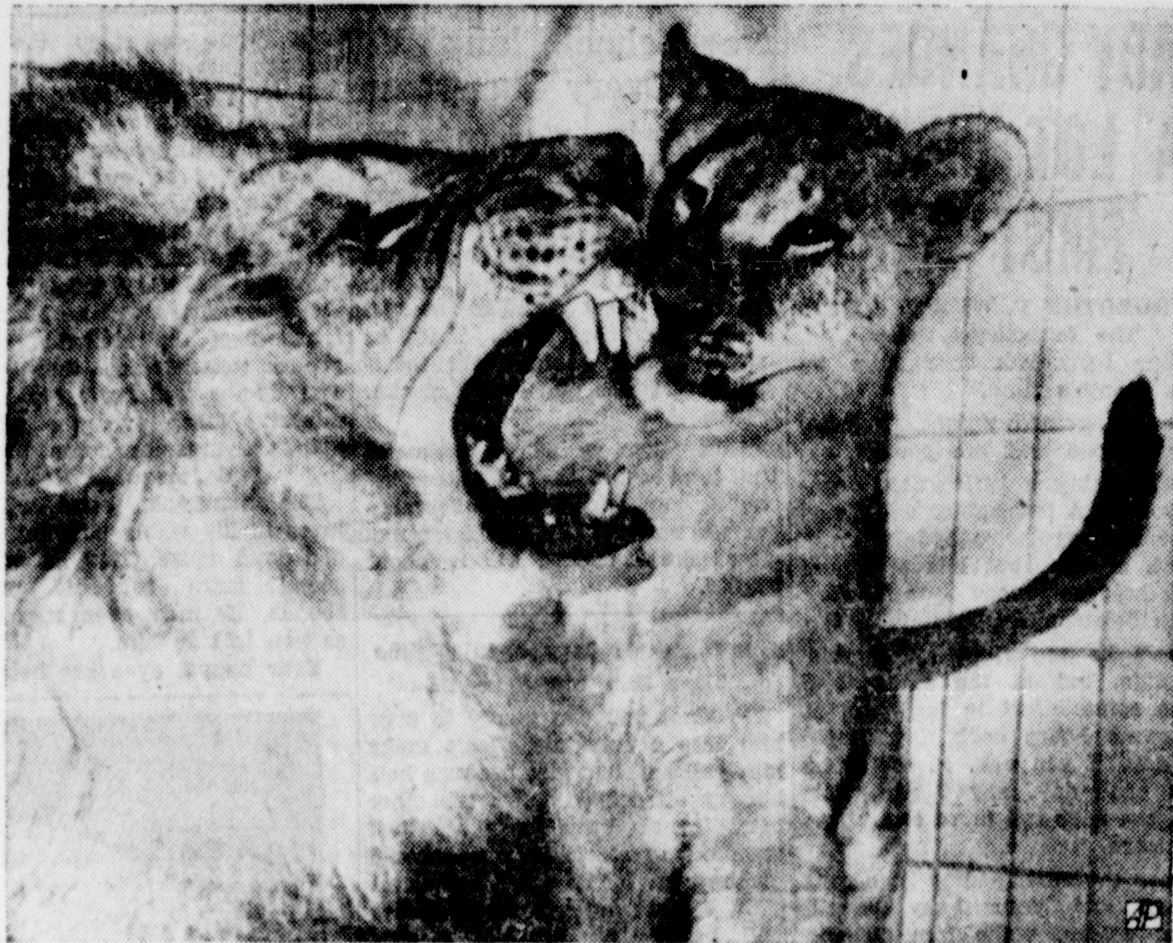

The Lish hat empire, which occupies several floors in a skyscraper office building in the heart of New York's wholesale millinery district, includes four separate companies, turning out women's hats in various price ranges from $1.98 to $30.

Started By Grandfather

This mass production hat business was started by Reggi's grandfather, Isaac Lish, and at present the firm includes her father, two aunts, a brother and various in-laws, each running a segment of the vast business.

Reggi started at the switchboard before she finished high school, worked as stock girl, model and showroom manager before she became head of the company turning out the upper-bracket hats, which retail from $15 to $30. In private life she is the wife of Dr. Theodore H. Finkle and mother of two children, Peter, 12, and Ricki, 7.

In her job Reggi makes frequent trips to Europe, buys materials, oversees the designing rooms and workrooms, meets buyers in the showroom, takes orders, plans promotions and models her own hats when necessary. In her 20 years of intimate contact with the national millinery market, she has learned a great deal about the hat-buying habits of American women.

LAYING DOWN THE LAW—Golf, six-month-old female lion cub, is apparently getting a warning at Frankfurt, Germany, zoo, from father, Metro, at their first meeting.

Perennial Best-Seller

"Year in and year out, no matter what the current fad may be, the sailor always is the best-seller for spring," says she. "Practically all women look well in some version of a sailor. A brim is flattering to most faces. And they seem to feel that when they take off their heavy winter coats they need more hat, to balance the silhouette."

Here is Reggi's idea of a well-dressed woman's yearly hat wardrobe:

For Easter, a sailor or a flower-trimmed hat with a little brim and a veil.

For summer, a small lacy straw or a big-brimmed picture hat.

For August, a velvet hat, either small or brimmed.

For fall, a small, close-fitting velvet or felt hat in a dark color.

Holiday Styles

For holiday wear, a dark velvet; a pastel satin or a jeweled velvet hat.

For January, a small shiny black straw hat, as a harbinger of spring and the patent-leather look.

This makes six hats a year, and Reggi says she believes women who can afford it buy this many. As she explains:

"A woman needs a new hat frequently to pep her up, like a tonic."

WIVES OF SENIOR CONGRESSMEN HAVE OWN CLUB

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON (AP)—There's lively reminiscing over the tea cups when wives of lawmakers who came to Capital Hill before the 79th Congress get together at meetings of their Senior Congress Club.

"It's just like a class reunion," says Mrs. Albert E. Carter, president, who first came to Washington from California in 1925.

Mrs. Carter and a few other wives who "didn't know a soul" and were so lonesome that some of them were talking of going back home formed the Sixty-ninth Congress Club.

"We met once a month, shared our problems, went sightseeing together and became good friends," Mrs. Carter told me. Her husband, now practicing law here, served in Congress 20 years and with each succeeding Congress Mrs. Carter has helped each group of incoming wives organize its own clubs. She has just helped organize her 17th, the Eighty-fourth Congress Club.

Clubs Combined

As membership in the earlier clubs dwindled with the years, the women who have remained in Washington joined together in the Senior group. Some 90 women were present at a recent luncheon meeting where Mrs. Earl Warren, wife of the Chief Justice and a former Oakland neighbor of Mrs. Carter's, was guest of honor.

"So many hadn't met her, and they were charmed," said Mrs. Carter. "You'd think our members would be as old as Methuselah, but they're not. Many of them came here quite young and some of their husbands are still in Congress."

Mrs. Burton K. Wheeler, wife of the former senator from Montana, who came here in 1922, is vice president of the club. Other officers include Mrs. Clarence Cannon, wife of the congressman from Missouri, and Mrs. August H. Andersen, wife of the Republican congressman from Minnesota, who helped form the 69th Congress Club. Mrs. Tom Connally, wife of the former Texas senator, who recently resigned as recording secretary, is succeeded by Mrs. Wesley Disney, wife of the former congressman from Oklahoma.

Mrs. Burton A. Chairman

Mrs. Harold H. Burton, wife of the supreme court justice, whose husband was formerly a senator, is a committee chairman. Others are Mrs. Walter George, wife of the Democratic senator from Georgia, and wives of Rep. John Taber (R-NY) and former congressman Robert Ramspeck (D-Ga.).

Charles Dana Gibson created the "Gibson Girl."

Former Drunk Shows Off For Neighbors

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—R. M. Orcutt hired a food caterer and invited all the folks in the neighborhood over to his home for an open house celebration.

"I want to show them what a former drunk can do," he said.

Fifteen years ago, said Orcutt, "I was about the biggest drunk in South Richmond," weighed about 97 pounds and drank the shoes off three children.

Now he is a strapping 205-pounder and owner of a prospering roofing business.

Service Station Had Well-Oiled Defense

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Two unarmed robbers drove to the Othel Service station, thinking the one-armed attendant, G. C. Jarvis, 40, would be easy pickings. "This is a holdup," they announced.

Jarvis picked up a quart can of oil and in one sweep, hit both of them. They broke for the door, and Jarvis heaved the can in their general direction. Then he took another shot.

The last he saw of them, they were screaming their tires as they ducked into an alley.

Schools Of Detroit Discourage Spanking

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's public school teachers want to know whether they can spank unruly pupils. The independent Detroit Teachers Assn. joined the AFL Detroit Federation of Teachers in protesting "weak-kneed enforcement of the discipline policy."

School Supt. Arthur Dondineau, who was instructed by the school board to clarify the issue, said: "We have a definite policy... we have never prohibited corporal punishment, but we discourage it."

Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, was a noted teacher of the deaf.

TAX FORM ASSAILED

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Circuit Judge Dale Souther, who wrote his congressman that this year's income tax form is "atrocious," says he has been flooded with congratulatory mail from across the nation since his published blast. He wrote: "Whoever is responsible for this form of statement should be looking for a job elsewhere."

TOUGH, NEW CANCER DRUG SHOWS POWER

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A two-listed new cancer drug has slugged a few of 100 hopeless human cancers with dramatic temporary effects, two University of Wisconsin researchers said today.

Two of these cancer victims are still alive a year later, but this is not a cure and "we don't think we have the right drug yet," they said.

The drug combines the different cancer-hitting chemistry of two earlier drugs, making it two-listed.

It also has some very serious setbacks.

Still Being Tested

Like other drugs, it can damage the bone marrow and blood system. The most spectacular recoveries for a time came in two patients who also developed anemia and later succumbed.

The drug, nicknamed OPSPA, is not available except for cautious experiments on selected patients, they stressed. It is a hopeful signpost toward the goal of drugs which can effectively and safely hit cancers and join surgery and radiation as ways to cure many cancers.

OPSPA is a nickname for a 44-letter drug named oxo-penta-methylene - diethylene - thio - phosphoramide.

It was designed by Dr. Charles Heidelberger, noted biochemist, in cooperation with a pharmaceutical firm, Lederle Laboratories. He found it could cure some kinds of cancers in animals. Cancer is not a single disease. There are many types.

Dr. Anthony R. Curreri, professor of surgery and well-known cancer researcher, has directed the tests on human patients. Dr. Curreri, a former Olympic boxer, and Dr. Heidelberger, who leads a dance band of student and faculty musicians as a hobby, summed up the status of the drug for science writers touring cancer centers under auspices of the American Cancer Society.

The drug can slow down or halt some solid human cancers but its effects are spotty, Dr. Curreri said. No cure, it needs much more study to make this, or some kindred drug, less poisonous to the blood system, to learn how best to give it, to learn how and where it works, the surgeon and biochemist pointed out.

GEORGE LEADER, ADVISERS SEEK TAX PROGRAM

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. George M. Leader went into the second round of conferences Wednesday with his tax advisers for the declared purpose of coming up with a tax program that is "realistic, equitable and in line with ability to pay."

Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, summed up the administration's objective, with this statement:

"The job won't be easy and we won't please everyone. But we're going to evolve a tax program measured against the needs of government and it's going to be realistic, equitable and in line with ability to pay."

On another tax front, a gross income tax that forms the basic source of revenue for Indiana was described at an open tax forum as providing "a good tax climate for industry."

"The Indiana gross income tax does not reach certain receipts from transactions that are found in interstate commerce," John V. Barnett, taxation director for the Indiana State Chamber of Commerce, said in an address at the Pennsylvania Tax Institute.

Gov. Leader was reported leaning toward some form of an income tax as the keystone of the administration tax program being worked out to raise some 400 to 500 million dollars in increased revenue for the next two years. The governor, himself, has declined comment on specific levies under consideration.

Barr said that no conclusions were reached last night at the end of 10 hours of discussion of a tax program that Leader has promised to submit to the General Assembly shortly after sessions resume on April 18.

"Our tax program, in its final form," Barr said, "will set out to correct the financial blunders of Republican leadership in the 16 years that if piled up tremendous obligations without corresponding taxes to offset the unexampled spending."

"Political considerations of last year in view of budget and administrative revelations since Jan. 18 (when Leader was inaugurated) are scarcely applicable now. We have had to re-evaluate our whole conception of the government system, which, thanks to Republican artifices, operated as one of the greatest political illusions of all times."

CATCH UP ON SEWING BEFORE THE BABY COMES

By The Associated Press
The last few months before the baby comes are the best time in the world to learn to sew. During those tedious weeks of waiting, when you can't do much else, you'll get a fine sense of satisfaction from some sessions with your electric sewing machine.

After the baby comes, there will be little time for uninterrupted hours of sewing, so local sewing center experts advise you to make the most of the time before the big event. Even if you have a complete layette ready, there are plenty of other useful items you can make.

For instance, there's nothing to stop you from running up a few items in a 1-year-old size. And there are many toddler garments that are the same for boys and girls. Pajamas and sun suits are two things you may be sure the baby will need as soon as he outgrows his first little wrappers and nightgowns. Make them in some non-partisan color such as yellow or green, avoiding the connotations of pink and blue, and they'll be right for either a little son or a small daughter.

Build Up Wardrobe
If you were a working girl up to the time you went into maternity clothes, you're probably a little short on a wardrobe for around-the-house. Make a couple of gay

Make Career Of Mine Safety Posters

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Arthur "Tony" Zawacki learned the importance of mine safety the hard way—in an accident back in 1927. After he recovered, he began sketching safety slogans on the sides of the mining cars. The mine superintendent spotted them, and suggested that Tony give all his time to promoting mine safety.

Today, he's still at it. Fellow workers call him the "underground artist" because for many years he worked in the mine foreman's office at the shaft bottom. In 1949, he set up shop above ground for the first time. His latest poster, captioned "A Good Point," shows a hunting dog on point, and bears the slogan "Be Alert—Don't Get Hurt."

cotton skirts with big patch pockets. You won't even need a pattern for these. Just gather them at the top, hem them at the bottom and attach a waistband (which probably should be about an inch bigger than your former measurement). With some fresh shirts and blouses, these will see you happily through your days at home, after the baby comes.

A bath apron is a must for a new mother, and one of these is easy to make from an old bath towel. Line it with plastic to protect your clothes, and you'll be all set for baby's bath.

A pretty robe is a good morale booster. Make one that is warm and washable, for those early feedings. Quilted cotton is one good bet—you can buy it by the yard, already quilted. Or some of the synthetic fabrics also fill the bill. A brushed orlon is warm and soft and can be tossed in with the family wash.

Robe For Pop
You might make a robe for Pop, too, while you're at it. He'll be doing his share of night work, too (you hope). To encourage this idea, make him a soft, washable robe that won't be too scratchy against the baby's cheek. Synthetics can do the job here, too, in masculine plaids or darker colors. If you want to do it up right, add a pocket monogram, using your sewing machine for the decorative stitching.

Other things you'll be needing before you know it include a cheerful crib cover, crib sheets and pillow cases to use as soon as the baby outgrows the bassinet.

And just for frivolity's sake, to celebrate the return of your waistline, why not make yourself a real whooper of a frilly petticoat, to wear under those new full skirts you'll be wearing after the baby comes? You can make it of pique or crinoline, add lots of ruffles of net or taffeta, and be all set to whoosh around in glamor clothes again.

DRIVING TO DOCTORATE

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Gordon G. Zimmerman, 33-year-old minister, of the Evangelical Menonite Church at Wauseon, Ohio, is going to great lengths to get his doctor's degree.

Three days a week he makes the 130-mile round trip from Wauseon to Ann Arbor.

"I don't mind the drive," he says, "because I use the time to think about class work or plan my sermons."

MIKE SOUCHAK NEW STAR IN GOLF CIRCLES

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Mike Souchak was getting a lot of publicity a year ago because he could drive a golf ball out of the county. But it wasn't paying him any money.

So Mike shortened his drives and concentrated on the best way to get the ball in the hole. Today he's the newest sensation in the game.

Souchak, the 210-pounder former end on the Duke University football team, took the Texas Open by storm. This tournament always has been noted for its sensational feats. Chandler Harper, the Chattanooga veteran, shot 259 in winning the 1954 Texas Open and that tied the record for 72 holes. Twice previously a 60 had been shot over the 6,400-yard Brackenridge Park Course. That also was a world's record.

New World Mark
Mike wasn't looking for a record when he came here with the touring professionals for a crack at the $2,000 first money. But it came when the big man from Durham, N. C., was forced to shoot a 60 to lead the first round. On the way to his record-tying round he did nine holes in 27, which was a new world's mark.

The second round found one of the tournament veterans breathing on Mike's neck. He was Freddie Haas of Claremont, Calif., who did 129 for 36 holes. That made Mike post 128.

Haas still hung on after the third round when his 65 gave him 194 for 54 holes. Mike just had to shoot a 64 to stay out front.

Came the final day and Souchak had to really buckle down to get his greatest glory on the links. It rained during the morning and almost froze during the afternoon and there was a bitter wind that chilled the boys to the bone. Souchak, however, was prepared for it. He wore a suit of windbreakers and gloves and said he was plenty warm.

"Pressure Was Off"

He stepped up to the first tee, drove down the middle, pitched to the green and was 15 feet away with his second shot. He calmly rammed that down for a birdie. "When I did that, all the pressure was off," said Souchak. "I figured I could win and have a good final round. I had gone out determined to win the tournament and to heck with the record. But that first putt dropped and then I got a good break at No. 3 when my second shot jumped the corner of the trap and rolled 12 feet past the hole." He got another birdie there.

By the time Mike reached the tenth hole he was looking for that record. He told Ray O'Brien, the PGA tournament supervisor, that he would get it.

And he did: Souchak shot the 72 holes in 257 with a 7-under-par 65 on the final 18. It won the tournament by seven strokes.

Pays Dividends

What did winning this tournament mean to the 27-year-old athlete who has been a professional less than three years? In the first place, it was his initial major victory. In the second place it brought him about $10,000. Not only did he get the $2,000 first money but the golf manufacturers he represents paid

Shakespeareans Seek Flowers, New Nose

NEW YORK (AP)—The Shakespeare Club of New York wants money for flowers and a new nose for the bard. Members explain that the club set up a Shakespeare garden in Central Park in 1915. In it were put 160 plants mentioned by the poet in his writings. There was also a bust and other decorations.

Now less than half the original plants remain and vandals have broken the nose of the bust. Enthusiasts have been boning up on the plants, helped by color pictures from England. Some park officials, however, take a dim view efforts to restore the plants or repair the bust. Some of the plants just won't grow in New York and others need more cultivation than can be provided, they say. The bust just isn't worth a repair job, they insist.

him about the same or more, he got a flock of exhibitions and he'll get at least $1,000 for being invited to the Las Vegas, Nev., tournament.

A week later Mike won the $30,000 Houston Open, richest tournament on the winter tour. His 65, 70, 71 and 67 gave him a 15-under par 273 for the 2,700 yard Memorial Park

AMUNDSEN SAILS AGAIN

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—The name of Amundsen made famous by Norwegian explorer Roald Amundsen who reached the South Pole December 14, 1911, will go to sea again. David Roald Amundsen, 19, great-nephew of Amundsen, enlisted in the Navy for four years. He is the son of Albert E. Amundsen, Janesville, Wis.

JOINT TENANTS

CONNERSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Some time ago, Bob Murray's coon hound killed some of his chickens. The dog has been kept chained to his doghouse since.

The other day a pullet decided she would rather live in the doghouse with the hound than in the chicken house.

The two get along fine, Murray says.

course. His 273 also set a record at Memorial.

Mike is a thinker. He figures everything out. "You have to hit the ball squarely and you have to make up your mind where you're going to hit it before you swing," he says. "You can't start changing up while you're in the process of swinging," he says.

Sleep, Servicemen Cause Turnpike Grief

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP)—Dozing drivers and servicemen anxious to get back to their bases are the biggest problems in the accident prevention program on Pennsylvania's famed turnpike. Last year the death toll was 54, a sharp drop from 1953 when 91 persons were killed.

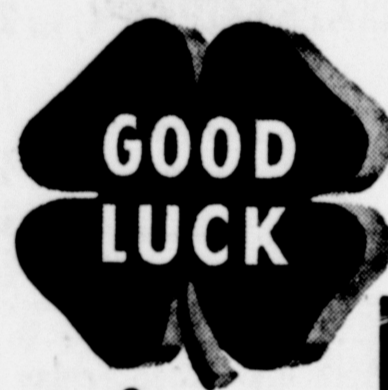

However, Capt. Singleton Sheaffer, who commands the special state police turnpike detail, is hopeful of cutting the toll again this year. He says:

"Our biggest problem is detecting people who are over-estimating their ability to drive without sleep and rest. The last five or six deaths of 1954 resulted when drivers dozed and crashed into the rear of slow-moving vehicles."

Sheaffer said many servicemen, usually from southern bases, are involved in many crashes while on a 72-hour pass.

"They try to dash home and back to camp without sleep," Sheaffer explained. "As a result, some of them near make it."

AIR GUARDSMEN PREPARED FOR NATIONAL ALERT

HARRISBURG (AP)—Air and anti-aircraft units of the Pennsylvania National Guard were ready today to participate in a nationwide Guard air alert to be held soon.

"In committing the Pennsylvania National Guard to participate in this test it gives the citizens of Pennsylvania an opportunity to see just how rapidly these units can mobilize in the defense of the state and nation," Gov. George M. Leader said in a statement Tuesday.

No specific date will be named for the national maneuver, designated "Operation Minuteman."

Adj. Gen. Frank A. Weber will direct all operations of the Pennsylvania units participating in the alert.

State Participation
Here is the way the commonwealth's participation shapes up: The 51st Antiaircraft Artillery Brigade, Allentown, will supervise three antiaircraft artillery groups and six 90 millimeter gun battalions in the operation.

The 118th AAA group of Philadelphia will control activities of the 707th and 709th AAA gun battalions from that city.

The 213th AAA group of Allentown will direct action of the 337th AAA Battalion from Reading, Hamburg, Pottsville and Tamaqua, and the 213th AAA Battalion from Bethlehem, Easton, Kutztown and Allentown.

Aircraft defenses in the Pittsburgh area will be under the direction of the 218th AAA battalions from Pittsburgh.

The antiaircraft units will employ simulated action with all type equipment.

PANG units included in the operation will be the 112th Fighter-Bomber Wing operating from Pittsburgh airport, Harrisburg State Airport and Spaatz Field, Reading.

Enemy interceptor action in the eastern section of the state will be handled by 111th Fighter-Bomber Wing based at Philadelphia International Airport.

Control and warning nets will be coordinated by the 112th Air Control and Warning Squadron, State College; 271st Communications Operations Squadron and 211th Communications Construction Squadron, Harrisburg, and the 270th Communications Operations Squadron, Philadelphia.

The PANG will use jet and propeller driven aircraft in the operation.

KILLED IN CRASH
ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Luther S. Nasse, 46, of Allentown was killed on Wednesday when his car crashed into a bridge abutment in Hanover Twp., Northampton County, three miles north of Allentown.

State police said Nasse, a carpenter, was alone and apparently lost control of the car on a curve.

BARCELONA, Spain—Maj. Gen. Irving Joseph Philipson, 73, of New York, who retired in 1944 after 40 years in the U.S. Army and later became director of public relations for Botany Mills, Inc., of Passaic, N.J., died Monday.

BOOK CITED IN MACARTHUR YALTA DISPUTE
NEW YORK (AP)—The chief aide to Gen. Douglas MacArthur says a book by Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney "completely belies" a report that at the time of the Yalta conference the general favored Russia's entering the war against Japan.

Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney issued a lengthy statement Tuesday night in the battle of charges and countercharges stemming from publication of the Yalta papers.

In reply to an article by Louis Morton in Reporter magazine, Whitney said:

"No competent evidence whatsoever exists" to support the view that concessions to Russia at the Yalta conference resulted in part from MacArthur's advice.

Morton is chief of the Pacific section of the Army's Office of Military History.

Quotes Passage
Whitney quoted a passage from Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney's book "Lone and Level Sands." It described a meeting between MacArthur and the late Secretary of Navy James Forrestal in the Philippines Feb. 28, 1945. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney accompanied Forrestal to the conference.

MacArthur at that time, the book said, surprised Forrestal by telling him he thought the war in the Pacific would end that year.

"Forrestal was visibly impressed and yet unconvinced," the book continued. "He asked the general whether he could quote him in Washington, to which MacArthur said he had no objection."

Whitney said, "This eye and ear witness account completely belies the (Forrestal) diary injected into the issue of responsibility for the Yalta decisions."

Conflict With Diary
The diary said MacArthur "felt that we should secure the commitment of the Russians to active and vigorous prosecution against the Japanese..."

Morton, in his magazine article, wrote that MacArthur "stated emphatically at the time of Yalta to more than one visitor that American forces should not invade Japan until three months after the Red army attacked in Manchuria."

MacArthur also told visitors, Morton said, that he was "perfectly willing" to make concessions to get Russia into the war.

Besides the 1,200 miles of existing U.S. toll roads there are 4,700 miles authorized for future construction.

WOMAN HAS 38 OPERATIONS AND SHE FEELS FINE

WICHITA, Kan. (P)—Mrs. Blondella Wert is recuperating nicely from her 38th operation and says she is going to live another 50 years.

"I believe this is my last operation," says the cheerful 55-year-old patient in St. Francis hospital. "I don't know what else they could take out."

In the past 22 years, she says, she has gone to surgery in 14 hospitals in half a dozen cities for an assortment of ailments. They include hernia, removal of a kidney, gall bladder, appendix, numerous tumors, a cancer, some of her intestines, both breasts and various other parts of her anatomy.

Don't feel sorry, though.

"Active, Happy Life."

"I've lived an active, useful, happy life so far and I expect to go on living that way," is how she explains the time she spends between operations.

And her doctor says she just might live the next 50 years as she says she will.

"She is doing very well," he said. "She had an ulcer this time and it was necessary to remove a part of her stomach. But she is about ready to go back home now."

When she is a little stronger, Mrs. Wert expects to go back to work, perhaps as a saleswoman at a department store. That and taking care of her home for her husband P. A. Wert, a telegrapher for the Santa Fe Railroad. (He's only a two-operation man.)

Wert says his wife is a busy woman who takes part in club work and other activities. Their two sons died in accidents, one drowning when he was 12 and the other in a railroad accident when he was 20.

"She works just as hard as I do," said Wert. "And I might add I have to work pretty hard. Operations come pretty high, even by the dozen."

LIST REFORMS FOR MENTAL INSTITUTIONS

HARRISBURG (P)—A program "to maintain the human dignity of the individual patients" has been advanced by Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro for all state mental institutions and general hospitals.

"Basically the program of the department... will have as its objective research and training, prevention, treatment and cure," Shapiro said after a meeting with superintendents of the state institutions Tuesday.

He added the plan is in contrast to "the present program which, with few exceptions, is one of mere custodial care which leads to neglect and often to cruelty."

Among individual steps to be taken, Shapiro listed:

An increase in the number of state supported child guidance clinics.

A ban against politically active persons participating in the management of an institution.

Increase in the ratio of nurses and attendants to patients.

Manning each institution with professional personnel.

Establish diagnostic clinics in state-aided general hospitals for child guidance, mental diagnosis and psychiatric treatment.

Reclassification of all patients now in state institutions.

Relieve the problem of overcrowding.

On child guidance clinics, Shapiro said:

Accept Recommendations

We will accept the recommendations of the governor's Committee on Children and Youth by recommending legislation to establish diagnostic, classification and assignment centers for so-called "mentally retarded" and "juvenile delinquents."

Purpose of the legislation, he explained, would be for the courts to commit the child to these centers through the Welfare Department instead of the present method of direct commitment by the court to an institution.

"This procedure will enable the department to diagnose and ascertain the problem and designate the institution best suited to treat the problem," Shapiro added.

The secretary also said that salaries of all personnel in state institutions will be increased "so as to afford fair compensation and

WINNIE MISSED "FRONT PAGES"

LONDON (P)—They never thought he would do it in the middle of the newspaper strike.

That's what they were saying in pubs on Tuesday as word spread that Sir Winston Churchill had stepped down as prime minister.

And most Britons, even the left-wing Labor party members who had been his severest critics, thought it was a pity it had to end like that.

"He ought to have had his front pages this day," said a Scottish janitor who never voted Conservative in his life.

"It must have broken the old man's heart to go out with none of them fine obituaries the newspapers got ready," said a hard-faced taxi driver. "A bloody shame, it was."

The British Broadcasting Corp gave the nation the news at 5:30 p.m. but a lot of Londoners were still working then or riding subway trains and buses home, and they didn't hear it.

Ordinarily they would have learned about this page in world history from their newspapers. But London's three afternoon dailies, along with the city's 10 morning papers, have been closed since a week ago last Friday by a strike of maintenance men.

So a great many people didn't know Winnie had done it until they stopped in at the neighborhood pub—the poor man's club in England—for their evening pint of beer.

$75,000 Diamond Robbery In New York

NEW YORK (P)—Three men wearing white gloves robbed a lower Manhattan jewelry firm of $75,000 in uncut diamonds and $2,000 in cash Wednesday, police reported.

The robbers entered the offices of Louis Verbeeck & Son, on the 9th floor of 64 Fulton St., shortly after 8 a.m.

One of the robbers drew a pistol and forced Charles Militana, an employee, to open a cage. The three men then herded Verbeeck, Militana and a third employee into a washroom, grabbed the gems and money and fled.
